TO THE MEMBERS OF THE
CITY FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS
SAN FRANCISCO

IN presenting to you this First Annual Year Book and Directory we desire to say that our original plans were for a larger book, but, having been greatly handicapped by prevailing war conditions, which obliged us to conserve in the use of paper, it became obligatory to reduce it to a more compact publication. It is confidently expected that by the time the next issue of the Annual is ready for publication it will be possible to return to the original plans.

¶ We most earnestly remind you of the fact that the patronage of our advertisers is essential to the success of this publication.

FOREWORD

Mrs. D. J. MACMASTER, President

A CITY FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS is an instrument by which workers and leaders accomplish co-operatively what they could not hope to do as individuals or individual clubs, maintaining, through effective strength, the best interests of its city. It merges the interests of the individual club into the greater interests of all the clubs, and incidentally helps the individual club. The needs of each are interdependent upon the needs of every other club. Individuals and single clubs have been struggling along for decades against heavy odds, trying to accomplish single-handed matters of interest to them, and they now discover what a tremendous force on the right side can be exercised by organized influence.

In the progress of its work in the departments, it touches upon themes bringing out many points of view, but underlying all there is great unanimity. Every chance is given all women in a city federation to know all about its conferences and conventions, for all live within their own or neighboring city, and can be in actual attendance at all meetings. For all who are not members of any club provision is made by invitation for them to become subscribing members, who add to the effectiveness of the work of the organization.

Its chief end is to meet, through preparedness, an unforeseen and sudden emergency. Extraordinary occasions sometimes arise and exist, when it seems absolutely necessary that prompt, effective action be taken as a whole by the women's organizations of a city to further successful execution of any specific project for the benefit of their municipality, and when the action of one or two organizations working singly or in pairs seems unavailing.

For the purpose, therefore, of co-operating with the city in any needed reforms, of guarding public interests and giving just consideration to its future needs and welfare, of acquiring greater power and efficiency for good, as well as for the creation of a stronger bond between the women's clubs, thus gaining uniformity of action and purpose along all lines, the San Francisco City Federation of Women's Clubs was founded in May, 1916, by her who became its first President. It was organized with a temporary abiding-place and a purpose. The California Club, with its gracious and generous spirit, gave it shelter for nearly a year, and there federation spirit was born. It has now become a living entity, and federation spirit is recognized as a vital force. Headquarters for the second year was at the Palace Hotel; this courtesy on the part of the management has been deeply appreciated.

The first year was largely one of organization; the second year found the Federation ready for work, seeking co-operation and constructive criticism. Its history, however, is to be written in the future. There are at present no archives in which to delve for anecdotes about its origin, no glamour of ancient San Francisco traditions surrounds its beginning, no conventional code of manners or customs is prescribed for its members, but upon each one depend its usefulness, activity and growth. Every year however will bring wisdom and experience as guides in its constructive plans, and its archives will in the future be rich in historic interest.

A new feeling has spread abroad in the community. The press has been kind in keeping the public informed of its activities, and now we think everyone has heard of the Federation. A club-house is needed, but no one has told us how to get it. A few members have volunteered to carry the burden of financial responsibility—that is, find ways and means of living.

Its growth so far has been along the lines of a stronger organization in point of numbers. The expansion of work and scope of committees will come next year. It is, however, growing into a most complicated and useful feature of the life of San Francisco. Its lines and ramifications will extend to almost every branch of municipal life and work. There is little that is of interest to any citizen that will not be touched by the work of the committees on Child Welfare, Art, Education, Literature, Social Service, Music, Civics, and Woman's Court. We shall plan a course of expansion and development by comparing methods of work, thus receiving fresh inspiration from one another. We are not a reform organization, except in a certain broad sense; our work is emphatically constructive. It will help our women to take part in all the great reform movements of our time and to take their places as intelligent and worthy citizens of our community.

The Federation was organized too late to enter anything of value before the last Legislature, but it sent countless letters and telegrams for or against particular measures. We expect magnificent work next year from our Legislation Committee, composed of the chairmen of all departments. No other committee of the Federation will touch as many angles of the body politic as will this committee.

Organized as it was with the avowed purpose of initiating and promoting civic and sociological advancement in every possible way, the Federation has quietly but persistently carried on a campaign to that end, sometimes with greater aggressiveness than at others, and has co-operated with other associations in similar efforts. On the whole, it has steadily increased in membership and usefulness until, on its second anniversary, it has an enrollment of seven thousand one hundred and fifty women, and a well-established place in San Francisco's annals as an organization that is an important factor in all that pertains to its city's proper development.

One of its chief characteristics, as well as one of the elements of its success, has been its quiet persistency. Its methods have never been spectacular, its primary object having been to achieve results; and while not afraid to criticise where criticism might serve good purpose, its policy in the main has been to work with material as it finds it, with a co-operative rather than a critical, antagonistic spirit.

Its aim is to initiate work, to aid that already initiated, and to establish a good community spirit. The interchange of ideas between the clubs is beneficial to all measures and departments. It is a clearing-house for the clubs in its membership. Its policy is reflected in its committees, which initiate and carry on the work through conferences.

It is not the intention of this organization to take the lead in any work initiated by an individual club, except when urgently requested to do so by such club, unless extreme necessity demands it. When such occasions arise, this organization before taking any action shall first offer its services to the club which has initiated the work, and shall in all cases pay due respect to that club in giving it the honor and precedence which is its due; but when such club finds it difficult to arouse the public sufficiently to secure its aid in passing a measure of vital importance to our city, and lapses in work and energy, we may, if not invited to co-operate, seek from them the privilege, by virtue of our superior strength numerically, of acting as a force back of their measure.

The Federation is non-sectarian and non-political. No partisan politics or sectarian measures may be introduced. No organization entering the Federation thereby loses its independence, or is committed to any principle or method of any other organization in the Federation.

Assistance has been given in every instance when called for. For example, at the second convention, the Association for the Blind made an appeal, in the form of resolutions, for blind children to be educated in our public schools. This matter was referred to the Department of Education; the chairman, Dr. Adelaide Brown, and her department became deeply interested in the subject; letters of inquiry were written east to the editor of the "Outlook for the Blind," who is also president of the Institute of the Blind in Ohio; others have been consulted, and a committee appointed to make an exhaustive study of the subject, with a view to presenting a bill at the next Legislature if found feasible. Space will not permit further examples, but the Federation is ready to help all who desire it.

Intensified work of War Relief has been carried on in addition to and not at the expense of regular department activities.

The City Federation maintains an affiliated membership in the National Child Labor Association and the Woman's Committee of the County Council of Defense.

The City Federation has every reason to believe that it is not individual when it comes to the subject of finances. The amount of work done could never be accomplished with the small receipts for annual dues, which only suffice to defray expenses of printing, stationery, postage, incidentals, conventions, etc., were it not for the fact that from the very beginning each department, or the committee under it, has been obliged, through a finance committee, to raise its own funds. This fund is turned into the City Federation treasury, and vouchers for the disbursement thereof are paid by the Treasurer of the City Federation upon order of the President, after the treasurer of the department has received the approval of the various department committees connected with that special piece of work.

For some years officials of the courts and persons engaged in social and charitable work have felt that California is deficient in its means for reclaiming women who are offenders against the law; that women from sixteen to thirty years of age drift repeatedly through the courts and into prison, and after brief detention go out again as helpless and hopeless as they went in. The City Federation has had a bill drafted and will initiate a campaign for legislation to secure an Industrial Farm for Dependent and Delinquent Women for presentation at the 1919 session of the Legislature, said bill to carry an appropriation for the purchase of land and for maintenance.

It has been thought well to present to the members of the Federation at this time a written detailed résumé of the activities of the Federation during the two years that have elapsed since its organization, not only as a matter of interest, but as a permanent record of its various lines of work. Many members who do not actively participate in the affairs of the Federation will doubtless be surprised at the work revealed by this recapitulation, the briefest enumeration of which has required the printing of the lengthy reports which follow this foreword.

The President desires to express cordial appreciation and thanks to the officers, committees and members for their confidence in, and kindly feelings toward, the work of the administration. They have met every requirement and have been equal to every emergency. No club has manifested a trace of self-seeking, all working for the best good of the entire Federation.

The annual meeting, coming as an event in this time of disturbance throughout the country and the world, brought more definitely than ever before the question as to what the clubs and club-women, with their boundless energy, are standing for and accomplishing.

And now, at the close of the second year, this organization has become so much a settled part of the scheme of things, both to our club-women and to the citizens of San Francisco in general, that it seems to have been in our minds for years, and we have a conviction that it has a destiny that no man can measure.

Happy in the knowledge that the past has been rich in glorious achievement, the President closes her pleasant task, leaving the future and its magnificent possibilities to the safe leadership of her who has so long sat in our councils, serving with a faithfulness and ability difficult to excel, and who is now crossing the threshold with an enthusiasm and well-directed systematic energy that will carry on the work in an effective, vigorous manner.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS

FOR 1916-1918

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY

MRS. LILLIS GEORGE BRANN

ON May 6, 1916, Mrs. D. J. MacMaster, past president of the California Club, sent a request to thirty of the most prominent women's clubs of San Francisco to send their president or a representative to a meeting called to consider the advisability of forming a city federation of women's clubs. Fifteen clubs responded. Mrs. MacMaster outlined the purposes of such an organization—unity of effort, interchange of ideas, and the prompt promotion of movements designed for the interest of San Francisco. After thorough discussion, it was deemed advisable to organize the San Francisco City Federation of Women's Clubs, with Mrs. MacMaster temporary chairman; a committee was appointed to draft a constitution. During the summer months meetings were held, plans perfected and a constitution and by-laws adopted on July 29, 1916.

On September 1st, a meeting was held and permanent officers elected. Mrs. MacMaster was the unanimous choice for president. Six vice-presidents, a recording, corresponding, financial, assistant secretary and a treasurer were selected.

Thus has that single, far-seeing, inspired thought that had its birth in the mind of Mrs. MacMaster become the germ of the greatest permanent woman movement in San Francisco.

It was decided that the chairman of each department or her representative, and the president of each club in the Federation, should, with the officers, constitute the Board of Directors. Departments of education, literature, civics, art, child welfare, social service and music were created. A chairman of club extension was secured, various committees appointed, and the San Francisco City Federation was ready to move forward.

There have been seventeen board meetings and five all-day conventions, with an average attendance of three hundred delegates. Reports have been given at these conventions from all the departments showing wonderful work and progress, from the various committees, who are ever active, from the presidents of each club, giving an accurate account of their main interests and aims, and from the officers. At each of the conventions talks and lectures have been given on every topic of vital interest to our city, state and nation, by men and women best qualified to bring their subjects close to each heart and mind. The Boy Scouts, High School Cadets and Campfire Girls have given demonstrations of their work. Many resolutions have been brought to these conventions and most heartily endorsed. The following are some of them:

Asking the Legislature to pass bills 51, 91, 31, in regard to providing for the expenses of the California Building at the Exposition for the State Normal School. Suggesting the creation of a playground in Jefferson Square Park. Endorsing Senate Bill 101, with the proviso that it be amended to provide badges for boys between fourteen and sixteen engaged in street trading. Endorsing the transfer of certain lands that San Francisco might have an aquatic park. Endorsing a bill to establish and give direction to physical education in public schools throughout the state. A resolution demanding that our city officials vigorously enforce the laws against vice and crime. Asking that the practicability of teaching swimming in the public schools be considered by the Board of Education. Asking at the time of the strike on the United Railroads that law and order be restored to San Francisco. Endorsing the bond issue for public schools. Co-operating with the State Council of Defense in regard to retail deliveries. Urging that, when possible, articles made by the blind be purchased and used. Protesting against the breaking down of laws and lowering of standard of children whenever and wherever such conditions threaten to be established as war measures. Asking for better car service to Palace of Fine Arts, and a column of art news in the newspapers of San Francisco at least weekly. Asking that vigilance be exercised and those selling liquor to soldiers be punished. Protesting against pictures and lectures that promote race hatred. Asking that blind children be admitted to public schools. Urging thrift and economy in regard to all food. Giving our pledge to the State Council of Defense to perform whatever duty they may require. Expressing to the President confidence in his wise and careful policy in regard to war. Opposing the employment of girls under twenty in messenger service. Endorsing efforts of San Francisco Association for the Blind to erect a building that will permit it to teach, train and make self-supporting the returned blinded soldiers of California. Endorsing Thrift and War Savings Stamps of all denominations. Endorsing the voluntary honor rations as given upon request of the women of New York and California by the Food Administration. Endorsing bill providing that no American woman shall lose her citizenship through marrying an alien, except with her consent, and one urging that men and women in Federal employ receive equal pay. Changing the name of the Federation to the following: "City Federation of Women's Clubs, San Francisco."

Many matters have been discussed, voted upon or turned over to the proper departments at the board meetings. One of the first being an endeavor to keep the jitneys off Market Street between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. A fund was started and a committee appointed to endeavor to preserve in bronze the statue, "The End of the Trail." The members of the Federation have been deeply interested in the Woman's Court, and have visited it and given such aid as was in their power. At the time of the closing of the red-light district every effort was made to secure employment for and help to better things for the women of that district. The assistance of the Federation was asked and given in regard to having the Greek casts in the Palace of Fine Arts remain there. The endorsement by the Federation of many bills to go before the Legislature has been asked for and given. The City Federation has had in charge the invitations for the girls invited to the dances for the enlisted men, and have done all in their power to make these dances a success. The Board of Directors was requested to write to the sixteen superior judges, asking that half of the appointments on the jury panels be women. This was done and some women were included on each panel. A telegram was sent to President Wilson asking leniency on behalf of the American soldiers who were reported to have slept while on sentry duty. A letter was sent to the judges asking that each serve in the Woman's Court one year instead of one month at a time, as has been the custom, because through frequent changes many cases were lost track of.

The Federation has joined the California Conference of Social Agencies, the County Council of Defense, and the National Child Labor Association. There are fifty-eight clubs and forty-seven subscribing members in the Federation.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs is at the close of its second year. It has not been an easy task to organize so large a project, but it is started well on its way and is a power which we hope will exist for many years to come with much benefit to our city.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

CORA SUTTON CASTLE, PH. D.

In the two years from the organization of the City Federation in 1916 to May, 1918, the corresponding secretary has written 379 postals and 262 letters. The postals were, in almost every instance, to give notice of board or department meetings, and were all written during the first year of service. As the organization of the Federation developed the department work was taken over by various secretaries appointed by the leaders of these several branches of work. The letters written have covered many fields. There were the official notices to officers and club presidents regarding reports at conventions and similar matters. Many were letters of courtesy to participants in our programs and to many individuals and organizations that have, at various times, co-operated to make the work of the Federation, not only a possibility, but a success. In the hour of sorrow, letters of condolence were written. Many letters were appeals to senators and assemblymen on behalf of certain legislative measures with which the Federation was in sympathy.

The secretary has on all occasions endeavored to be duly prompt in this official correspondence and to use tact and discretion that would reflect the dignity of the organization. As representative of the City Federation of Women's Clubs of San Francisco, the secretary has had the privilege of addressing the Board of Supervisors, the Board of Education, the Police Judges, the Mayor of San Francisco, the Governor of California and the President of the United States.

In submitting this report the corresponding secretary wishes to thank the President, the Executive Board and the members of the Federation for the honor and privilege of serving the organization with her pen, and to express her appreciation of their unfailing courtesy and consideration.

REPORT OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY

MRS. FRANK H. JONES

The City Federation of Women's Clubs is to be congratulated upon the efficiency in service of its officers and chairmen of departments. This is not intended to include the assistant secretary, whose office it is to render first aid when needed, and does not constitute regular service. The faithfulness of the officers and chairmen have freed her from such duty, with the exception of some small services given in the early part of the club activities. However, this has been amply repaid, when, during a forced absence, duties were reversed, and others helped in mailing notices, leaving only a small part of that work to the assistant secretary, for which she extends her gratitude.

REPORT OF CIVIC DEPARTMENT

MRS. CHARLES A. HAWKINS, Chairman

The present chairman of the Civic Section of the San Francisco City Federation was appointed in October, 1916, but being called east almost immediately thereafter, was succeeded as chairman by Mrs. D. E. F. Easton. Although the section was not organized until Mrs. Easton took charge, it was able to make a suggestion tending toward the solution of the question of jitneys on Market Street during certain hours, namely, that Mission or some other main artery be paved for the accommodation of the jitneys, thus preventing the hardship they would incur in being forced off Market Street to an unpaved thoroughfare. This suggestion was taken up by the Board of Supervisors and has been carried out, rapid progress having been made in paving Mission Street. After organization of the section, with Mrs. Easton as chairman, action was taken on various matters of importance, as follows:

Resolution endorsing aquatic park. Resolution mailed to the Board of Education requesting that swimming be included in the course of instruction of high school students, with credits to be allowed on graduation report. (This has been done, as far as possible in the high schools, students being taken in groups to Mission Park and other swimming pools as a part of the gymnasium work, for which credits are allowed.) Committee appointed to investigate lighting in Golden Gate Park, which committee reported an increase in number of lights consequent upon their action. Upon a request that a demand be made to keep the public library open until 10 P. M., it was reported that an amendment to the city charter would be required before this action could be taken. To the suggestion of formation of a Red Cross unit of members of this section, the consensus of opinion was negative, owing to the fact that all of the members were members of various units operated through individual clubs. On request of Mrs. Culver, chairman of the committee for the Women's Court, for co-operation on the part of the Civic Section by the attendance of two women on each session of the court, volunteers were secured for this purpose. Resolution was offered that the Moving Picture Censorship Board have one woman who was a member of a San Francisco club. Resolution that the Civic Section appoint one of its members to co-operate with the Law Enforcement League. This completes the report of the activities of the section during Mrs. Easton's chairmanship.

With the opening of the club year of 1917, Mrs. Easton resigned the chairmanship to undertake other work and the present chairman once more accepted the appointment, though with much doubt as to the wisdom of doing so, since she was engaged in a special and personal civic enterprise which has proven eminently successful. However, with the very competent assistance rendered by the vice-chairman, Mrs. Frederick Thompson, and the secretary, Mrs. Mark Neumann, the work of the section has not been interrupted, though somewhat changed in character because of existing world conditions.

The first meeting of the section was held in September. A committee was appointed in connection with the communication of Mr. Willis Polk regarding the new state building's failure to conform with other buildings in the Civic Center. Mrs. Bert Schlesinger outlined plan of study of the school survey with respect to its relation to the present school laws and the amendments necessary in order to carry the recommendations of the survey into effect. This course of study has been carried out, with talks by Dr. Langer and Mrs. Schlesinger, and there remains but the final summing up by Mrs. Schlesinger, who has given much time to the study of the legal aspects of the survey, with graphic charts showing existing conditions and those designed under the survey.

Miss Kate Dunn Ames addressed the section with regard to a series of three lectures on Autocracy versus Democracy, covering the fundamental issues of the war for an educational campaign on which she desired the co-operation of all organizations. Recommendation that the Civic Section support the school-bond issue. Recommendation offered urging women to help toward increased registration before the city election and toward the election of upright officials.

Professor Scotford addressed the section on the subject of a standardized sales-check, providing for honesty of quality, price and business dealing. A committee was appointed to consult further with the speaker on the plan proposed. Resolution adopted to request all clubs which are members of the Federation to write to the superior judges urging that women be included in the new venire to be called, also asking that names of women qualified and willing to serve be submitted. Mrs. Abbie Krebs-Wilkins outlined a comprehensive city plan, under the zone system.

This section has now taken up the work of compiling some data on the under-feeding of children due to high prices, much of this data having been collected by various organizations and groups of social workers. Dr. William P. Lucas, who is now in France, expressed a desire that this matter be given all possible effort and publicity by some central organization, as he was convinced that an increase in child tuberculosis could be traced to this cause. The nations of Europe have been forced to give serious attention to this feature, and if we are to maintain our standard of public health we must also be on the alert to prevent the undermining of the health of the next generation, particularly if the struggle be greatly prolonged. A conference on this subject will be called by the Civic Section as soon as the data can be collected and put into form for discussion.

A special meeting of this section, April 24, was given to the discussion of matters pertaining to the Public Library and its relation to the public. Mrs. Mary C. Bell, representing the Juvenile Protective Association, spoke of her efforts to secure an increase in the number of hours during which the library is open, permitting its use until 10 P. M. weekdays, and also for longer hours on Sundays and holidays. This would entail some expense, and the fact that the library fund has been reduced since the change of administering the corporation tax would probably render an act of the Legislature necessary. It was therefore decided that the chairman of the Civic Section should appoint a chairman of a sub-section for the study of library conditions, such chairman to form a committee for such study. The appointment was taken under advisement until reports from a number of libraries in cities of similar size could be secured and compared at a meeting of women who would make this their special work. At the same meeting there was discussion of the rights of incorporated clubs and of the means to prevent their becoming a public menace. A letter of appreciation for his good work under discouraging conditions was directed to be sent to Lieutenant Goff of the morals squad. Mrs. Orlow Black explained the subject of health insurance and the proposed enabling act in the Legislature.

REPORT OF LIBRARY SECTION

MRS. MARY C. BELL, Chairman

From a survey made several years ago by the Juvenile Protective Association and continued investigation made by a committee in the Alpha Neighborhood Club, it is a pretty well-established conviction in the mind of many persons who think along constructive lines, that many advantages would accrue to both old and young if the central and branch libraries could be kept open until 10 P. M. every day and from 1 to 10 P. M. on Sundays and holidays. The general knowledge that the librarian, Robert Rea, and Secretary George A. Mullin have on the subject brings them to the positive conclusion that the additional $15,000 required for salaries of attendants would be fully justified, if the funds were available. Under the city charter the maximum amount the Supervisors can set aside for library purposes is two and one half cents on each $100 of assessed valuation. The library trustees have never been given the full amount until 1917, when the building and upkeep of the additional buildings required the full amount available under the charter. When the corporation properties were turned over to the state for taxation, it took over $100,000,000 out of the assessable property of the city, which was the source of the library fund. There has never been any provision made to make this amount good to the library system of the city. It is estimated if the full value of the assessable property were available for library purposes, under the two-and-a-half-cents tax, the library trustees would have at least $20,000 a year more to expend. There are two ways suggested by which the library fund could be increased. Either by charter amendment that will increase the allowance from two and a half per cent, or by state legislation which would grant cities of the first and first and a half class some funds for library extension. In San Francisco we fall behind other cities in the amount spent for the purchase of books. We have only been spending on the average $27,000 per year for the purchase of new books. This is a very small amount considering the duplicates required to supply new and good books in a city of the population of San Francisco.

The writer spent several days recently studying the conditions in the public library of New York city. The mental atmosphere was wonderful. The hours are long there and the much desired "library habit" is consequently well established. Readers and students have no incentive in our system of short hours, with orderlies clearing up and shuffling books throughout the evening hours. The closed holidays shut from the library those most needing to use the books, magazines and papers supplied from public funds. Those wishing to use the fine reference books in our library in the evening haven't time to settle down comfortably before lights are "blinked" for 9 o'clock. The educational and moral value of a public library system working up to a high standard is incalculable in a cosmopolitan country. One of the morning papers, through the editor, is very much interested in the expansion of the public library and plant, and will give assistance to the enlightening of the public mind in regard to need of appropriating more money for this purpose. The time is near for the leading educational and civic committees to come together in council over this important matter.

REPORT OF EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

DR. ADELAIDE BROWN, Chairman

The Educational Committee of the City Federation of Women's Clubs was organized in February, 1917. The committee held several meetings and undertook a study of the conditions of the education of the blind in California. A special committee has worked with others interested and no doubt the next Legislature will take steps to separate the deaf and blind in the state institution at Berkeley. The Claxton School Survey was received in June, 1917, and in the fall a series of five meetings were held at which the chapters of the survey, most interesting to the citizens as well as teachers, were discussed. A resumé of the chapter was presented by a member of the committee and then the subject was open for discussion. This series of conferences led to a still further development of study centers of the school survey. In November the Education Committee presented the program for the fourth convention and had speakers on "The Relation of the Library to the Schools," "The Relation of the Art of San Francisco to the Schools," and the "Relation of the Museums of San Francisco to the Schools," as seen in the survey. The program attracted a large audience and was very well received. Since January, 1918, there have been no meetings of the Educational Committee.

REPORT OF THE ART DEPARTMENT

MRS. ROSE V. S. BERRY, Chairman

The Art Section of the City Federation of Women's Clubs is conducted by an art committee of fifty-six women—each member representing one club in the Federation. Too much cannot be said of the interest in art which is evident on all occasions in San Francisco; the public and the club women respond in their attendance in numbers almost incredible when compared with the interest and attendance in older and larger cities. While this is true, there is much to accomplish yet, and as the city federation is the largest body of organized women in San Francisco, they are the ones to stand back of every project for the betterment of artistic conditions, to welcome new ones, and to strive unceasingly for the helpful measures which are not yet in the possession of the art lovers of the city. The Palace of Fine Arts must be saved for the people. The interest manifested there has given proof positive that it is an institution which San Francisco cannot spare; no body of women better than the club women can realize the worth of such a place to a city. With an attendance of over 400,000 in twenty-two months, its record is phenomenal, and it behooves the city federation to labor on untiringly in its efforts to secure the permanency of this beautiful building so dear to the hearts of many scattered all over the world.

One thing which, as a committee, the Art Section has failed to secure and which is vital to the art situation in San Francisco, is a more prominent place given to it by the press. The newspapers of the city deal with all other matters more liberally than with art; this will continue as long as they may remain unconvinced of the importance and the popularity of art as a news item, and the Art Committee is urged never to lose an opportunity of urging upon the papers the desire of the public for a consistent account of the doings in the art world at home and abroad.

Much has been done in the past year; the two days devoted to an art conference were greatly appreciated by the hundreds who attended them. The first day was spent at the Affiliated Colleges in conference with Prof. H. Rushton Fairclough and Prof. Gifford, both of whom lectured upon subjects which abounded with illustrative material in the museum. The Art of Egypt was talked of by Prof. Fairclough in a most comprehensive manner and followed by a discussion which was most interesting. Prof. Gifford talked upon the Art and Life of the American Indian, illustrating his lecture with slides, and later the seventy portrait studies of Indians by the California painter Sharp were enjoyed, as well as other paintings by Carl. Prof. Fairclough of Stanford gave the third talk upon "City Planning," Oscar Borg, Amadee Joullin, Henry Raschen and others. The second day of this conference was spent at the Palace of Fine Arts. The first talk was given by Mr. Laurvik, the director, on the Dutch Graphic Art, a large collection of etchings, prints, mezzo-tints and dry-points exhibited by the contemporary Dutchmen. A luncheon was served to four hundred women, at which Mrs. MacMaster, president of the city federation, presided. The afternoon program was given by Dr. Phyllis Ackerman, who talked most entertainingly upon the rare and valuable tapestries of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, and Leo Lentelli, the sculptor, who talked on the value of sculpture as a decoration. These conferences were later followed by a series of ten lectures given in the lecture room of the Fine Arts, when the intimate art of women constituted the subject of the course. These lectures had to do with building of the home and its decoration, and were most instructive and helpful. The best speakers of the city and the universities took part during the continuance of the course and there was a registration of over six hundred names in attendance. The subjects dealt with were: Color and Design, by Rudolph Schaffer; Revival of Arts and Crafts, by J. Nilsen Laurvik; Interior Decorating, by A. F. Martin; Rugs and their Weaving, by Prof. Arthur A. U. Pope; Greek Art and its Effect Upon the Modern Art, by Prof. O. M. Washburn; Modern Graphic Art,—the Making of a Monotype, by Perham Nahl, of the U. C. Art Department; The Building of a Mansion, by W. B. Faville; Mural Painting, by Arthur F. Mathews; Tapestry Weaving, by Rose V. S. Berry. The plan to carry these subjects into the actual doing is the project for the next series of talks; the making of lace, the binding of books, wood carving, leather and metal work, all of which may be done by women.

As the plan for another year begins to mature, it is hoped that a conference between the Child Welfare Section, the Musical Section and the Literature Section will each combine in a comparative program with the Art Section, and that the development of the creative arts may be drawn closer together for the study of the City Federation.

THE WOMAN'S COURT DEPARTMENT

MRS. L. M. CULVER, Chairman

The first session of a Woman's Police Court in the City and County of San Francisco was held December 4, 1916. For many years the necessity for such a court had been variously discussed and commented upon and asked for by interested club women of the city. But it was left for the incumbent police judges to look into the future and to see in the request a progressive step that carried decency and justice as its recommendation. The Woman's Court is now sixteen months old, and with each added month has come the assurance that the step taken by the police judges at that time was not a mistaken idea.

The work of the Woman's Court has followed the many paths of those who come through its doors, and it has been a liberal education to all—to those who asked and to those who received. The women early learned that the rehabilitation of the family was the step needed to lessen crime and poverty among those who found their way into the court. Hence, the work of the Woman's Court of San Francisco has at all times dealt with the family as the unit and not the individual. Under this system over 1200 families have been visited, and in 735 cases individual family conditions have been worked out.

The Woman's Court maintains a large employment bureau, and through its efficiency 335 women and girls, 93 men and 49 boys have found employment. Among those families who came into the Woman's Court, or other families where there were children barred from school because of some physical ailment, the Woman's Court has made possible the way to correct these conditions, and this special work has covered 67 hospital cases.

By careful questioning of the police judges into the living conditions of those who come before them, eleven civil cases involving the rights of children have been taken up and followed through the Civil Courts. Eighty-five girls have been returned to their homes in various parts of the United States by the Woman's Court. The Woman's Court has had 152 visitors from outside the State of California, including one from Siam, one from Cuba, two from Japan, two from Germany, one from Argentine Republic, four from Honolulu, two from London, two from Alaska, four from France, three from Belgium, one from Chile.

The Woman's Court owes a debt of gratitude to the Y. W. C. A. for their thoughtfulness in sending to the Court an especially trained social worker in the person of Mrs. Lewis J. Evans. Mrs. Evans has covered the hardest part of the Woman's Court work, by taking as her special work the girls of the night life, and the results have been remarkable. She has at all times been wise, sincere and compelling. Her influence can easily be seen in the feeling that exists between herself and the girls. Her work is marvelous and is commended by the police judges, the police officers, the San Francisco City Board of Health, and the City Federation of Women's Clubs. The appreciation offered her is only a small return for the service rendered.

The past sixteen months have brought many changes for better conditions for women and children through the Woman's Court, but our problem is far from being solved. Our police judges have given us much, and have been ready at all times to co-operate in any way we may have desired. But a permanent home is becoming imperative, for by our rotation every two months, from one department of the police courts to the next, we are losing many cases among those who are really in need of definite assistance. The court's work has grown until it requires a secretary, who will be present at all times to take the cases as they come in. The investigators for the Woman's Court have been untiring in their efforts to plan and help work out the personal problems. The unanimous backing given the court by the City Federation of Women's Clubs has been of the greatest help and value, and we feel that our heretofore dream for a permanent woman's police court may soon become a reality. The following appreciations will be read with interest:

TIMOTHY J. FITZPATRICK, JUDGE OF POLICE COURT No. 1

Something over a year ago, at the request of sociological workers who had given the matter mature consideration, the judges of the Police Court set aside one of the departments for the trial of cases wherein women are complainants or defendants. The innovation has met with pronounced success, and has been cordially commended by those who so earnestly sponsored the movement. The result of the assignment to a separate department of the court of cases in which women are involved has been the elimination of idlers from the courts, a more thorough investigation of the facts being permitted, for the reason that men are not permitted to be present at the taking of testimony in the women's department of the court. The elimination of hangers-on is not the only apparent benefit which has been observed from the operation of the Women's Court. The ladies connected with institutions looking to the uplift of women who need assistance and comfort have had a much better opportunity of securing the confidence of many women defendants, and the many cases in which the social workers have been able to secure facts in connection with cases, and the contributing reasons leading to the arrest, instances in which the Court acting alone might not have been able to get all the facts, attest the value and efficacy of the aid and support given by the women connected with the various institutions which have taken such a high and laudable stand in helping those in need and in distress. The assistance rendered by the ladies in the women's department of the court has been particularly apparent in that class of cases where women and children have been left dependent by derelict husbands, and their solicitude for the welfare of that class has been shown by the persistent manner in which derelict husbands have been brought before the Court. Many thousands of dollars have been collected and paid over to dependents of such husbands by the good offices of these ladies in assisting husbands to secure employment.

The social workers are to be congratulated on the results attained in the brief time the women's department of the court has been established, and their regular attendance in large numbers is a glowing tribute to their earnestness, interest and success.

JOHN J. SULLIVAN, JUDGE OF POLICE COURT No. 2

Having been requested to give my impression of the Women's Court from my experience presiding over it and from my observation of the results it has obtained while it has been in existence, I proceed cheerfully to do so if thereby I gain for it additional supporters, a wider influence, or tend in the smallest degree to increase its efficiency.

Although a comparatively new project in our judicial system, and resulting as it has from the general tendency extending all over the United States to recognize equal rights of women, it has left its indelible mark and has built up for itself an enduring future. Those of us who opposed its establishment in the first instance, upon legal grounds, have become convinced of its worth, and hope some day that the law may be so reconstructed that our legal objections may be removed, and that its permanency may be established. It has not only effected its own success by giving privacy to the affairs of women, and caused them thereby to have less reluctance in coming to these tribunals, but it has also created a very, very much better influence amongst the attendants or curiosity seekers or idle hangers-on than existed prior to its establishment. The class of people referred to (who attended sessions of the police courts, being frequently of a character that sought the recital of some spicy or salacious story involving women, and thereby gave to these courts an unhappy conception by most people) have been removed, for since they are no longer permitted to attend the sessions of the women's court they find nothing especially interesting to them in the recital of our daily routine, and it has thereby tended to elevate the different departments when they are not engaged in presiding over the women's court. I may go on to some great length and thereby occupy too much space and too much time for those who desire to read of the many benefits that have been obtained, the much good that has been done, and the many opportunities that have resulted through this department, but private inquiry will exposit this in a much more eloquent way than anything I might record in this missive.

In conclusion I desire to state that it is my firm opinion that if it were not for the untiring vigilance, for the conscientious attendance, for the sincere effort on the part of the women who are responsible primarily for its establishment, I fear that this court could not have attained the success that in my opinion it has. And if they were aided or assisted by a larger corps of women attendants the efficacy of the court would be greatly increased, for more depends upon them than upon the judge, and it is to them that all credit is due. This is but an epitome of my opinion, but I feel that it is sufficient to indicate that I am a staunch supporter, loyal adherent, and firm believer that it should and will endure.

MATTHEW J. BRADY, JUDGE OF POLICE COURT No. 3

The Women's Court is now in the second year of its existence, and those who were opposed to it at the start—and there was considerable opposition—now concede that it has come to stay. Prior to the setting aside of one particular court, known as the Women's Court, which now handles all cases where women are the complaining witnesses, or where children of tender age are involved, or where the great majority of the witnesses are women or girls, these cases were heard and tried in common with other cases in the different courts, and frequently before men whose only interest was curiosity or exploitation. Now the situation is changed, and all cases involving women and children are heard in the Women's Court behind practically closed doors. The idle and curious are excluded, and the surroundings made as pleasant as possible to relieve the embarrassment of the women who are compelled to attend the court. The Women's Court is by no means confined to passing upon the unfortunates of the underworld, as particular attention is paid to the moral welfare of the boys and girls, and particularly in the cases of parents failing to provide for their minor children. In this latter class of cases the Women's Court has done splendid work, and too much credit cannot be given to the noble, unselfish women who have faithfully attended every session of the court and who have given their hearty assistance in following up cases of omitting to provide, and seeing that the order of the Court is being complied with.

In conclusion, I wish to say that the Women's Court is no longer an experiment, but a fixture in the police courts of San Francisco, and has come to stay. Being something new, it has not yet reached that stage of perfection to which improvement from time to time will ultimately bring it, but in the meantime it is filling a long-felt want, and the heart of every police judge beats in sympathy with the spirit which prompts the creation of this court.

MORRIS OPPENHEIM, JUDGE OF POLICE COURT No. 4

The Women's Court is a success. And it is so despite the fact that many a wise prophet gave it an existence of but a few months. The Women's Court is a success because there is nothing foolish or freakish about it. Its establishment was simply an inevitable common-sense move. The Women's Court saves many a sensitive woman from the shameless gaze of morbidly curious men. It has helped to check the spread of dread disease in the community by forcing medical treatment upon infected prostitutes. It has diminished prostitution itself by a system of sane dealing with the problem which for the most part is merciful and persuasive, but which at times must necessarily be severe as the circumstances of the case require. It has united husbands and wives, and mothers and sons and daughters. It has protected wives from brutalities and has brought bread home for themselves and their offspring. The Women's Court has done all this in hundreds of cases, as may be substantiated by court records.

The Women's Court is far from being perfect, and the judges see the necessity of changes and improvements every day, and they adopt them as rapidly as their necessity appears. First and foremost, however, it must be said that the success of the Women's Court is due to the interest and support manifested by the women themselves. Every day there sit in the courtroom a number of interested women, who do not reform by chastising with scorpions, but who suffer mother, wife and daughter to come unto them for rehabilitation and relief. Their method is persuasive and gentle, but thorough and comprehensive. Without them the Women's Court would be a dismal failure. And it is only through them and because of their words of encouragement and criticism, their suggestions and watchfulness, and their independent and far-reaching investigation of every deserving case, that the court for women is an unqualified success. Without them there could be no Women's Court.

REPORT OF SOCIAL SERVICE DEPARTMENT

MRS. HENRY SAHLEIN, Chairman

The second year of the existence of the City Federation of Women's Clubs has closed, and retrospectively I may mention that whereas the first year's work of the Social Service Department was strongly marked by the activities that evolved from the closing of the red-light district, in the establishment of an employment bureau at 254 Montgomery Street, from where during the one month that it was operated twelve women thrown out of employment were placed in positions that furnished them a legitimate livelihood, this year's work has been marked by activities growing out of needs necessitated by the world's war.

Service is the keynote of the hour. What with demands at home and abroad, every woman can be as busy as she wishes, and each one ought to be as active as strength will permit.

At the convention held on the thirtieth of January, I made a plea for jellies and walking-canes for the use of the invalids at the Letterman Hospital, suggesting that it would be well to concentrate on the sending of the same on the fourteenth of February. What a St. Valentine celebration there was out at the Presidio on that day! The splendid response that the appeal evoked is best told by the fact that there was a glass of jelly for every invalid—more than five hundred—with enough to spare for the nurses and orderlies, while the officers were not overlooked in the general distribution. The news of the success of this occasion has reached up and down the state, and this work is consequently being not only continued by the city clubs, but by those of near-by counties, two of the most constant contributors being Mrs. H. M. Plimpton, representing a group of women from Willows, and Mrs. Guy L. Walton, representing a group from Yuba City. May this good work continue, the contributors sending as frequently as their store closets permit a little luxury to the "boys," so many of whom are far from home and its attendant comforts.

Following the consideration for the invalids at the base hospital, attention was attracted to the fact that the relatives who were called to their bedsides could find no suitable accommodations in the vicinity, with the result that we are now on the very eve of opening a hostelry where sisters, sweethearts, wives and mothers may be comfortably housed at a moderate charge. This hostelry is to be known as the New Outside Inn, and is situated at 2524 Lombard Street, a short walking-distance from the east gate of the Presidio. It has been appropriately and attractively furnished and was opened on Saturday, June 8th, for inspection, and thereafter was ready for guests. Co-operation in this work has been most delightful. Spontaneous offerings from service to a hundred-dollar check, from an inkwell to a barrel of tinting, have been sent, and rooms have been completely furnished by the following clubs: California, Forum, Laurel Hall, Outdoor Art League, Vittoria Colonna, Council of Jewish Women, Daughters of California Pioneers, To Kalon, Sorosis, San Francisco Colony New England Women, Utile Dulci, Corona, Philomath, New Era League, Hypatia, Council of Catholic Women, Women of First Unitarian Church, Papyrus Club, Sunshine Club, Rebecca Assembly of California, Sherman Mothers' Club, King's Daughters, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Congress of Mothers, Martha Washington No. 2 Sons and Daughters of Liberty, Woman's Auxiliary of California Pioneers, Woman's Auxiliary of Temple Sinai, The Presidents' Assembly (Oakland), and by Mesdames D. J. MacMaster, E. D. Donovan, D. C. Deasy, N. L. Nelson, William Wilkins, James Rolph, Jr., Jacob Stern, Louis F. Monteagle, Eugene Bresse, Ellis H. Parrish, M. M. Hartman, Miss Tillie Caro, and "A Friend."

The room furnished by the Presidents' Assembly is very appropriately an assembly-room, restfully and artistically designed in tones of yellow and brown. Further, the Century Club and Mrs. C. W. Clarke have both donated the equivalent to the cost of furnishing rooms, the same to be appropriated to some specific purpose, and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, the Woman's Democratic League and the San Francisco School Women's Club sent checks for different amounts. Besides these, friends have been legion, and a complete list will be appended to this report. From checks and from barrels of tinting to begin the work of renovation of the premises, through contributions of Mazda lamps, rolls of wall-paper, brooms, electric irons and a gas stove, contributions of various articles of furniture of all periods, passing through the Victorian era up to the latest in a set of Mission hall furniture, donated by Mrs. Isaac Walter and Mrs. William Haas, and a set of modern office furniture loaned by Mrs. A. L. Fisher. A sewing-machine has been given and a phonograph promised, and all that seems to be lacking is a hall clock. It would be impossible to detail the many gifts that will make this hotel of fifty rooms and four baths, as the advertisement reads, habitable. For all this the committee in charge is deeply grateful, and if by chance the name of any donor be omitted, it will be through no lack of appreciation.

Before closing we wish to make special mention of the fact that the San Francisco War Camp Community Service, of which Mr. Jesse W. Lilienthal is President and Mr. H. Feldman Executive Secretary, made this piece of work possible by taking over the rent of the building, and to this organization we owe a vote of thanks.

To Colonel George Filmer, chairman of Military Relief of the Pacific Division of the Red Cross, we are indeed grateful for substantial and kindly co-operation in supplying certain articles that previous donations had not permitted; to members of the Red Cross Motor Service, who carried the announcements of the opening of the hotel throughout the Presidio and in all conspicuous places in the city; to the firms who donated the printing, to the chairmen and members of committees, to Mrs. E. J. Hanson, who acted as secretary, and to all who lent their cheerful and capable assistance our thanks. Surely they will receive those of the mothers for whom the place was primarily established.

Most active in the work of making these collections, under the able chairmanship of Mrs. Adolph Weil, have been Mrs. Henry Sahlein, Mrs. Max Blum, Mrs. Lucius Solomons, Mrs. J. Hershberg, Mrs. Geo. Bernhard, and Miss Tillie Caro.

MISS E. GRACE UNGER, Treasurer

Receipts: To donations, $942.50; painting, papering, tinting, curtains, rods and names, $8. Total, $950.50.

Disbursements: By contract (on account), $538.50. Balance, June 1, $412.

From the allocation of war work in this community, it is a great satisfaction to report that the particular feature that has been assigned to the City Federation, that of the dancing parties for enlisted men, is evoking ever-increasing enthusiasm as the season progresses. The dances given since the opening one of September 14, 1917, up to and including the final one, given on the 25th of May, have averaged the entertainment of more than five hundred enlisted men who have been entertained at these affairs.

The following is a list of the dances given, with Mrs. Arthur Flood in charge of arrangements, to the soldiers, sailors, aviation corps and marine corps, by the clubs that have membership in the City Federation of Women's Clubs: Forum Club, Pacific Coast Woman's Press Association, three by the Council of Jewish Women, Philomath Club, St. Francis Delphian Club, Papyrus Club, San Francisco Center, Laurel Hall, Mills Club, Corona Club, San Francisco Musical Club, San Francisco Association for the Blind, Collegiate Alumnae, two by Sorosis Club, Channing Auxiliary, Hypatia Club, To Kalon Club, Utile Dulci Club, Teachers' Council No. 2 (composed of the principals and high-school teachers of our public schools), George H. Thomas Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., Phelps Circle No. 2 Veterans of the United States Navy, Dames of the Loyal Legion, Ideal School Women's Club, Kate Kennedy School Women's Club, Teachers' Council No. 8, Adelante Club, Round Table, Siena Alumnae, La Mesa Redonda Club, and three very large parties given by the City Federation, in which the fifty-eight clubs composing its membership united.

By the foregoing list it is readily learned how generously the hotels have responded and assisted in the carrying out of this extensive program, and it is with the greatest appreciation that I call attention to the fact before closing the report on this matter.

In turning the results of our efforts over to our President, to be incorporated into the work of her administration, I wish to thank her for the honor she conferred upon me in having appointed me chairman of this important department and having continued me in it during the two terms of her incumbency.

CALIFORNIA CLUB divides its work into four departments—Education, Social Science, Civics, and Outdoor Art. The Educational Department contains six sections—Art, Choral, Drama, French, Players, and Whist. The Art Section meets at the Palace of Fine Arts. It has pledged $300 to the Palace of Fine Arts library fund, as California Club's share in the work; $150 of this has already been paid. The Art chairman arranged an Autumn Wild-Flower Show in the club-rooms during October, 1917, which was not alone of great artistic value, but educational as well, the public school children and teachers taking advantage of it. A spring exhibition will be an event just before the summer.

The Choral Section gave two evening concerts last year, and its members are always ready when called on to assist club programs. This year they have been active in assisting in programs for the enlisted men, and a concert for this purpose was held on the evening of February 11th. Dancing followed the concert.

The Drama Section explains and reads a play once a month for the entertainment of the members. The French Section meets weekly and is divided into three classes—beginners, intermediate, and advanced. Each has a lesson of an hour under a paid French instructor.

The Players' Section presents plays for the pleasure of the Club; this year they have given plays for the enlisted men at the Y. M. C. A. and the Presidio.

The Whist Section meets one afternoon in the week. Last year their benefit fund was turned over to the Club; this year it has gone to the Red Cross.

The Outdoor Art League Department is working for the establishment of comfort stations in the congested parts of town, and has specialized in the cleaning of the lagoon around the Palace of Fine Arts. This work it has paid for, and will continue to keep the lagoon free from scum. It has also planted seed in the garden, and intends to place urns on the pedestals where the statues formerly stood.

The Civic Department is active in the Juvenile Protective Association and the Woman's Court. They had the name Lobos Square changed to Funston Park, in honor of General Funston. Much of their work comes to them over night. One or two instances will suffice: Some time ago a permit for a liquor license was desired to open a place at Twentieth and Wawona streets. This seemed out of the world—in reality it was right at Sloat Boulevard. The California Club's assistance was asked, as the place was really intended for a roadhouse. The Civic chairman was able to prove this to the Board of Police Commissioners, with the result that the permit was denied. Another instance was that of a girl who had been wronged by a married man through a drugged drink. She was going to shoot him, as she could get no justice nor support for his child. The President was able to tell her what her life would be in San Quentin Prison in case she killed him, and was finally successful in getting her to promise to let him alone until we went into court with her. The Civic chairman saw the case through, with the result that the man is paying for the support of the child and the girl is happily earning her own living.

The Social Science Department passed a firearms bill at the last session of the Legislature, restricting the use of firearms. This department divides its work into three sections—the Hospital Section, the San Quentin Prison Section, and the Social Service Section. The Hospital Section does its work with the San Francisco Hospital, better known to some of you as the City and County Hospital.

The individual needs of the patients are considered and clothing and comforts furnished. The chairman of the San Quentin Prison Section gives a monthly program—artistic, literary, or musical, both vocal and instrumental; also giving any personal help to women coming out on parole. The holiday and Easter time are remembered happily. This work is confined to the women's ward.

The Social Service Section has provided a monthly dance for the soldiers and sailors in the California Club rooms. In October four large boxes filled with everything that would delight a soldier's heart were sent to the Red Cross for the California boys in France. One had 850 pounds of tobacco alone. Concerts have been given at the Relief Home at Fort Winfield Scott and the Oregon Building for the soldiers. Nine concerts have been given in the tubercular wards of the San Francisco Hospital for the patients. Over 1000 magazines have been placed in the Army and Navy, and 100 books for the Mare Island library. Three hundred and fifty garments have been distributed for the use of the tubercular patients at the San Francisco Hospital. Twenty-five toys were given the children's department. A piano-player has been placed in the reading-room of the tubercular patients, pending the purchase of one provided for in the city budget of 1918. Two Christmas-trees, electrically lighted, were furnished for the Christmas cheer of the tubercular wards. For those who could assemble in the social hall a Christmas program was furnished, with a real Santa Claus and presents. For the bed patients a portable tree 3½ feet high, with 48 lights and beautifully decorated, was taken to each ward in turn. As the current was adjusted and the lights began to twinkle, one of California Club's Choral Section sang while Santa Claus put in each outstretched hand a pretty bag containing more than one Christmas gift. In some cases the gift was put on the pillow and a toil-hardened hand closed over it lovingly. There were 248 patients, and not one was forgotten.

A flower garden, covering the fifty-foot lot adjoining the club-house, and suggested by Mrs. Robert Drake, serves as an example to our citizens of what can be done with vacant lots.

INTERNATIONAL, NATIONAL AND STATE LEGISLATION, AND MUNICIPAL WORK, ACCOMPLISHED AND UNDER WAY BY THE CALIFORNIA CLUB
SINCE ITS ORGANIZATION, DECEMBER 27, 1897

INTERNATIONAL LEGISLATION

Matter of urging the President and State Department at Washington, D. C., to take measures to include kidnaping among the extraditable offenses mentioned in the treaties between the United States and all foreign countries, is still pending after four years' effort.

NATIONAL LEGISLATION

The Five-Per-Centum Bill, which brought to the State of California over a million dollars to be expended for the public schools of the State.

The War Claims Bill. The Government owes the State of California over $1,000,000 for the equipment of troops at the time of the Indian and Civil wars. $40,788 of this passed the U. S. Court of Claims June 6, 1910, and a bill to pay the same was introduced into Congress January 5, 1911, and is now pending.

The Calaveras Big Tree Bill was presented to Congress by the California Club in 1900. After a varied history extending over a period of nine years, a measure was introduced asking Congress to authorize an exchange of lands in the National forests for the Calaveras groves. This bill passed Congress. The terms of the exchange were not satisfactory to the owner, and therefore an amended bill providing $10,000 to pay expenses of experting the timber in both the National forests and the Big Tree groves passed Congress in 1912.

Secured enactment of measure by Congress permitting old ship "Portsmouth" to be sent to Exposition, and to remain on Coast as an historic relic.

STATE LEGISLATION

The Meadow-Lark Bill for the preservation of meadow-larks.

The Juvenile Court Bill.

Joint Resolution for the retention of old Spanish names given to cities, towns and villages in the State of California.

An Act amending the Political Code of California, requiring at least one woman physician in each of the State Hospitals for the Insane and the California Home for the Care and Training of Feeble-Minded Children.

An Act creating a State Forestry Fund and appropriating $100,000 from any moneys collected hereafter from the Government by the State of California in payment of its Indian and Civil War claims.

A Bill to create a Department of Music in the University of California.

Bird and Arbor Day Bill.

Tenement House Bill.

White Slave Traffic Bills. Two bills, regulating and making White Slave traffic a felony.

Joint Guardianship Bill. Providing for equal domestic rights in the relation of both parents to their children.

Proposed Amendment to the Code of California for Legislature of 1917 as follows: "Upon the death of the husband all community or separate property amounting to $5000 or less shall be probated by the State, without expense to the widow or minor children, or both, or to the estate."

MUNICIPAL WORK

A flower fête was the initial public work of the Club, on the occasion of the golden jubilee, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of discovery of gold in California, 1898.

Book of war poems was published during the Spanish-American War. 1898.

Porteous Club organized for benefit of working girls (Dept. of Philanthropy). 1898.

Distribution of plants and bulbs, with instructions for growing, with which to beautify gardens and window boxes of South San Francisco Settlement. 1898.

First public playground on the Pacific Coast opened and maintained for three years.

Obtained from Board of Supervisors $12,000 to open first public playground in California, at Seventh and Harrison streets.

Second public (municipal) playground opened.

North Beach and south of Market playgrounds, established in 1907 by Board of Supervisors, through efforts of Club, in acquiring $741,000 for purchase of same by bond election of 1905.

Fitzroy pictures and casts of Parthenon Frieze hung on walls of public schools.

Petition granted, through Board of Public Works, for waiting-room for women in City Hall.

The preservation of Telegraph Hill. First work begun in 1899. Shade trees planted on summit 1901. Brought twice into bond issue.

Four circulating libraries placed in the offices of the District Messenger Service for the boys.

Six traveling libraries donated by members and started on their mission.

Woman appointed on Board of Education through initiative of Club.

Two exhibitions of industrial arts.

Civil Service supplementary reading introduced into public schools.

Summer School of Forestry at State University established.

Public Library Music Department, consisting of scores of operas and symphonies, established.

Co-operated in securing ordinance providing for free flower markets on street corners.

Permanent decoration of a public-school auditorium.

Detention Home established.

A plea for purity of streams. Seven thousand copies of leaflet sent out.

The Evening Bulletin of February 2, 1904, was issued by the California Club, through the courtesy of the proprietors, thus netting to the Club the sum of $6375.

Redwood Cañon—Interest aroused for its purchase.

Portfolios of reproductions of masterpieces of art purchased and sent out as loan exhibits to schools and federated clubs in the state.

Relief work after the fire of 1906 was carried on by the California Club Emergency Relief Committee, a sub-committee of the Red Cross Society. After the Emergency Bureau was closed the Club continued its relief work from moneys contributed by Denver Chamber of Commerce, Chicago Woman's Club, General Federation of Women's Clubs, other Eastern clubs, and some of the California clubs.

Request for niche in Hall of Fame for Susan B. Anthony.

Opening of school yards for playgrounds. An appropriation of $900 by the Supervisors and Board of Education secured to keep a matron at the Seventh-Street Playground.

CORONA CLUB

Motto: Finis Coronat Opus

MISS JENNIE PARTRIDGE, President

Organized 1898

Federated 1916

Meets second and fourth Thursdays

CORONA CLUB was organized for musical, literary and social improvement. Sections were added as the years went by, as follows: Book Review, Arts and Travel, Civic, Child Welfare, Dramatic, Household Economic, Philanthropic, with committees on Hospitality, Club House Fund (now holding over $7000), Christmas Jinks, Red Cross, Current Events, and the necessary committees for the routine of the club. The Club numbers 200 members, limited. It has always taken a vital part in the affairs of the city and State, its presidents serving on many other boards and different organizations, one of our presidents—Mrs. E. D. Knight—serving as State president, C. F. W. C. for two years.

Child Welfare Section, Mrs. Chas. F. Lewis, chairman. Has done valiant service for Baby Welfare Week, and helped in the Juvenile Court work, and supported bills for child welfare.

Household Economic Section, Miss Frances Meeker, chairman. Meets at members' homes, has held cooking classes, luncheon demonstrations in Food Conservation, and held a delightful meeting in the Club with fine addresses by Miss Ebbets of Washington and Miss Marion Leale on Food Conservation; is identified with the Housewives' League, and has graduation diplomas from The Sperry Flour Cooking Classes.

Civic Section, Mrs. A. H. MacDonald, chairman. Has sub-departments of Legislation, Immigration, Films, and Entertainment, besides the regular civic work of the city. The Immigration Department which has been teaching and helping Russian, Chinese and Japanese work for women and girls, gave a Christmas-tree to 200 Russians, with candy and books. The Film Department has protested against immoral films, and sensational ones unfit for children. The Legislative Department, besides supporting important measures, has succeeded in getting from the Supervisors two or three extra comfort stations in Golden Gate Park, and two extra ones near the Geary Street Boulevard, and improving existing ones. It has aided the Women's Court, attending every week throughout the year; has helped the Girls' Welfare Home, Vice Employment Bureau, and Recreation League. The Civic Section started and put through a swimming-tank in the Children's Playground in Mission Park, where 2000 children bathe and swim daily. It secured the lot from the Board of Education by getting an appropriation from the Supervisors. The swimming-tank is a great success and a benefit to the health of the children. It also promoted a Social Center in the Bryant Street School, and presented pictures of the Fair and Yosemite for its hall. It has helped secure better housing conditions among the poor, and besides small gifts has given $50 to the Y. M. C. A. Building Fund and has taken a $50 Liberty Bond.

Corona has the honor of having four of its women acting on juries, one having served on the first mixed jury in California. We commend this work to women as not only patriotic, but educational.

The Book Review, Arts and Travel Section, Mrs. Nolt, chairman. Meets at homes of members, advancing the literary interests of the Club, and giving a yearly program always most entertaining.

The Dramatic Section, Mrs. Hattie Herndon, chairman, has given plays before the Club most acceptably, and has given them also for the soldiers at the Presidio and for other clubs.

The Philanthropic Section, a new section this year, helped many families at Christmas with our silver march money of the Christmas Jinks, and the Club has given liberally to Belgian relief, Allied relief, Anti-Tuberculosis, Prison Reform, Child Labor Bureau, Associated Charities, and other agencies.

MISS JENNIE PARTRIDGE
PRESIDENT OF CORONA CLUB

MRS. H. K. MOULTHROP
PRESIDENT OF TO KALON CLUB

The Club has supported the various bills coming up for legislation, particularly those in the interests of women and children.

Our Red Cross Section, Mrs. Howard Herrington, chairman, holds two sewing days weekly, having two auxiliaries, with a knitting section working at home, and many hundreds of garments, have added to the comfort of our soldiers.

The Club has given a dance for the soldiers at the Fairmont Hotel with 1000 in attendance, and has given four evenings at the Presidio, one a social evening, with refreshments for 400 men.

The vacation luncheon, the annual reception, the card party, and the annual breakfast add much to the social pleasure of the Club.

The President has acted as chairman of several committees of outside organizations, and is a member of the City Federation and Woman's Council of Defense.

We were organized in 1898, the year of the Spanish-American War. Today we are at war once more, a most dreadful war, which, please God, will soon end. The war has changed the current of our activities, lessening them in one direction, augmenting them in others; but a great work is now ours—ministering to the comfort of those who are risking their lives to preserve our country, its freedom, high ideals, and life itself. As club women, may the high ideals of democracy and freedom be ours, and may we conserve them for the club women of the future and for our great country.

TO KALON, from the Greek, signifying the beautiful in art, literature and music, was organized with 121 members. The Club has a regular and a business meeting each month, and the sections of Art, Literature, Drama, Civics, Philanthropy, French, and Red Cross. The Civic Section is under the able direction of Mrs. F. W. Thompson, and is open to members and friends. Prominent speakers are procured and discussions held on current topics which affect the political and civic life of our city, state and nation. War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps have been recently discussed. Meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month.

The Literary and Drama sections, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Josephine Martin and Mrs. Clarence Leavy, respectively, meet each month, and splendid programs are given. Madame George Guittard has charge of the French section. Advanced, Intermediate, and Elementary classes are conducted.

The Philanthropic Section gives much happiness to the needy at Christmas-tide. Many stockings are filled with good things and warm clothing provided.

The Red Cross Auxiliary has had two units working at headquarters since June, 1917. Besides having knitted many sweaters, mufflers, wristlets, socks and helmets, we have made baby kits, baby socks, and hospital garments. We have a sick committee, and all cases of illness or death are reported. A service flag has been ordered to hang in the club rooms.

To Kalon Club was in charge of the booth at Geary and Grant Avenue for the entire Third Liberty Loan Drive and also for the second Red Cross Drive. During the loan drive bonds to the amount of $27,000 and $3000 in stamps were sold. During the second Red Cross Drive approximately $5000 was added to the war fund.

The Historian writes the history yearly of the Club, and this is placed in the Log Book. To promote sociability, tea is served after the regular meeting, which is the first Tuesday in each month.

The membership of the Club has remained about three hundred for many years.

DAMES OF THE LOYAL LEGION SOCIETY OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

MRS. F. E. BOWLEY, President

Organized 1915

Meets first and third Thursdays

Federated 1918

THE Society of the Dames of the Loyal Legion is composed of the wives, mothers, daughters, widows, and sisters of the Companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion, and the daughters of the descendants of said Companions who have attained the age of 18 years. On May 4, 1899, the first regular meeting of the Society of the Dames of the Loyal Legion was held at the Palmer House in Chicago. The adjourned session thereof continued on May 11th, at which time the organization was perfected, and the name of the order, "Dames of the Loyal Legion," was adopted.

The object for which it is formed is to foster the spirit of patriotism and to cherish the memory of those men and women whose distinguished service during the Civil War so largely aided in preserving the integrity of the Government of the United States of America.

On October 6, 1899, the Dames of the Loyal Legion became a legally organized corporation under the laws of the State of Illinois. The order is composed of state societies and a national society. The Illinois state society was organized in May, 1904, and the two societies now perform the duties defined in the by-laws for each. The national society is composed of the present and past officers of the state societies. The society joined the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs on May 19, 1901.

Since 1902 the society has been contributing a library of historical and patriotic books yearly to the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs as a circulating library, on educational lines, having for its objects the diffusion of knowledge and the promotion of love of country and of good citizenship among the young who will be the future citizens of our great republic.

The register contains lists of members from the states of Illinois, Ohio, New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, and California, and from Washington, D. C.

The California Society of the Dames of the Loyal Legion held its first meeting in San Francisco with six charter members. It now numbers 23 members. The California Society joined the San Francisco City Federation of Women's Clubs in September, 1917. Our work being entirely along patriotic lines, we are working in conjunction with the San Francisco City Federation of Women's Clubs in all movements which tend toward the betterment of our city, state and government.

Organized 1887

Meets first Mondays

Federated 1916

THIS report marks the close of the thirty-first year of the existence of the Channing Auxiliary of the First Unitarian Church of San Francisco. This society was organized in February, 1887, for the promotion of literary and practical religious work, and for years was the principal headquarters for the most prominent lecturers visiting the coast, and we still keep in touch with the progress of the world through the best musicals and lectures it is possible to obtain. To our activities along the lines of literary culture and social intercourse, on account of war conditions, has been added social service as exemplified in the splendid work done for the Red Cross. Every Friday, from 9:30 A. M. to 4:30 P. M., our rooms are open and our time devoted to the wants and needs of our country; in the meantime we are meeting with great encouragement in our efforts to obtain books for libraries for soldiers and sailors, and in helping to do our share in furnishing entertainment for our army, so that our boys may be surrounded with refined influences during their stay with us.

Our Concert Committee gave an excellent concert, the musical numbers of which were furnished by the talented members of the society. The proceeds were placed in a special fund, that we might do our share for the comfort and entertainment of the soldiers. This fund made it possible for us to give a dance for the enlisted men, under the auspices of the City Federation, at the Fairmont Hotel; this occasion will ever remain a happy memory.

In our study classes most effectual work has been done during the year. The Dramatic Class has given many interpretative readings of Bernard Shaw's plays. The class has become so proficient that it has been invited to read before many of the principal clubs in the city. We feel that drama is creative literature, and in the present age a most vital power in the world, and it is our duty to familiarize ourselves with the best that it gives us.

Throughout the ages it has been the office of art to educate us to the perception of beauty. We are always surrounded with beauty, but the majority have not the clear vision to bring out a particular object of beauty from its environment.

The wider one's knowledge of history and literature, the more interesting does life become, and there is no better introduction to the study of history and classical literature than the study of art. Our work for the year began with a lecture and exhibition of paintings on Alaskan art and the art of the Alaskan Indians. This was followed by a systematic study of tapestry and oriental rugs, which was found to be both interesting and instructive. Then followed a course of lectures at the Palace of Fine Arts, where we had the actual observation of the tapestry, rugs, and paintings in connection with the talks and lectures.

A splendid opportunity is always offered to our members for the study of languages.

Through the organization of the City Federation of Women's Clubs of San Francisco much has been done to awaken in each individual club the desire to do that which they have been dreaming they would like to do. When they meet in convention and learn how much some clubs have accomplished, it creates a desire to put forth their best efforts and do their best to accomplish all that which is for the betterment of mankind, or, in other words, to accomplish that for which our society was organized—namely, "the promotion of literary and practical religious work."

WOMAN'S SYMPHONY ASSOCIATION

MRS. JOSEPHINE MARSHALL FERNALD, Founder

Organized 1916

Meets first Mondays

Federated 1916

SIGNALIZING the triumph of women in one more branch of professional endeavor marked the first appearance in San Francisco of feminine musicians on an equal basis with men. This association has held orchestral rehearsals under the direction and instruction of Nikolai Sokolof. From this orchestra of professionalism these women will return to the women's orchestra and bring to it the fruits of their professional appearances. It is one thing to be an artist and instrumentalist. It is another thing to be a routine symphonist. It is the business of symphony that these women are going to learn, and, spreading their influence over the women's orchestra, they will help to prepare that organization to appear in connection with women's clubs and conventions, and will occupy a unique position in the world of Western music.

The object of this association shall be to unite and maintain on a permanent basis a woman's symphony orchestra for the purpose of producing a number of concerts of the highest character each and every year, and to have a representative organized body ready at any time to take concerted action on any musical measure that vitally affects the life of the community. It shall be non-partisan in its relation to all political parties, and an ardent supporter of all that makes for the musical progress of San Francisco.

Mrs. Josephine Marshall Fernald is the founder of the Woman's Symphony Association, an enterprise to foster musical culture in this city. The organization expresses the devotion of women to the cause of music, and has an enrollment of 300 members.

Interesting musical programs and lectures by prominent men and women at each meeting, also card parties and other social functions, were features of their year's work. The orchestra gave a concert at the Fairmont Hotel on June 24th for the benefit of the Red Cross, and thousands were in attendance. It also formed a part of the orchestra for the monster Red Cross meeting at the Civic Auditorium on June 23rd and for the tobacco fund for the soldiers' benefit at the Auditorium in August. A series of five concerts under the direction and instruction of Nikolai Sokoloff with the People's Philharmonic Orchestra added more laurels to our women musicians.

UTILE DULCI CLUB

Mrs. EDWIN J. HANSON, President

Organized 1915

Meets last Fridays

Federated 1917

UTILE DULCI CLUB owes its origin to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Three years prior to the Exposition, American citizens of Swedish birth or descent organized for the purpose of interesting and urging the Swedish government to exhibit at the Exposition. This was accomplished by these citizens guaranteeing to raise a certain sum of money toward erecting a Swedish building. In this organization the women played an important and effective part through its auxiliary, and during the exposition the Swedish building gained a reputation for whole-hearted hospitality through their unselfish service. To link the past pleasing memories with the future, the last official act of this organization was to purchase and present to the city of San Francisco, for its museum, a beautiful marble statue entitled "Hymn" by a Swedish woman sculptor, Alice Nordin. With no regret, save for the ending of a very pleasant task, it was but natural that these women should desire to remain in association for some further useful and social purpose; hence the birth of Utile Dulci Club.

MISS HELEN BROWN
PRESIDENT OF ST. FRANCIS DELPHIAN CLUB

MRS. E. J. HANSON
PRESIDENT OF UTILE DULCI CLUB

The aims and purposes of this club are to entertain and extend hospitality to distinguished Swedish or Swedish-American women who may visit our city; to promote intellectual advancement and sociability among its members; to take the initiative or co-operate in patriotic undertakings appertaining to the Swedish-Americans, or where their united assistance is appealed to in any local matter.

Many delightful luncheons have been given to some of America's celebrities who claim Sweden as their native land, and the Club aims to welcome such visitors with true California hospitality, and in this regard the wonderful flowers of our state always play an important part in trying to uphold the traditional reputation of California's endless summer.

The Club has within the last year created a scholarship fund to assist deserving young women who may desire a university course or other advanced education to make themselves self-supporting, and last but not least an auxiliary to the Red Cross has been formed, with thirty women making knitted garments for the navy.

ST. FRANCIS DELPHIAN CLUB

MISS HELEN E. BROWN, President

Organized 1915

Meets second and fourth Mondays

Federated 1916

THE purpose of the Delphian movement is self-culture, self-improvement, and individual development. In order to better accomplish these results clubs were formed. The St. Francis Delphian Club was the first of these clubs in California. During the three years of club life we studied early and mediæval history and the development of literature from the early Egyptians up to and including that of the nineteenth century. This year we are particularly interested in the history of the nations engaged in the present European War.

Our meetings are opened with the roll-call, to which all present respond by giving current events. After the business formalities are attended to, our members give a short talk on the topics assigned to them.

Aside from our study work we are also interested in subjects of civic, state and national importance. We have speakers come to us and present both sides of any issue on which we desire definite information. We aim not only to become more familiar with the art, literature, and history of the past, but to keep in touch with the important events of the day.

We consider it a duty as well as a privilege to assist in any patriotic work. It was our pleasure to entertain five hundred enlisted men at the St. Francis Hotel on October 13, 1917. We have organized a War Savings Stamp Society. We enrolled twenty-five members, have held two regular meetings, and have sold $200 worth of stamps. In response to a request for jelly for the sick soldiers at the Letterman Hospital we were able to send 133 glasses. The names of eighty-five lonesome soldiers were sent to us. We distributed them among people whom we knew would look out for them. The result was letters were sent to every one of them and seventy-four received Christmas gifts.

In reviewing the work accomplished by our Club during the past three years, and noting the marked development of the individual, we find the results are most gratifying.

PHELPS CIRCLE No. 1, AUXILIARY UNITED STATES VETERAN NAVY

Mrs. Rose M. Taylor, Captain

Organized 1914

Meets second and fourth Fridays

Federated 1917

ON Memorial Day, in the year 1902, members of Phelps Squadron and friends went in a launch to the Golden Gate and held services for the sailor dead. This service was immediately adopted in all states of the Union that possessed a large body of water. Since that time Phelps Squadron has held such services annually, and the United States Government in recognition thereof has detailed a Government vessel for the occasion. In 1915 and 1916 the grand old bull-dog of our navy, the United States battleship Oregon, was detailed. Prior to 1915, and last year owing to war conditions, the United States army tug Slocum was detailed.

For a number of years different organizations assisted in the services, but after a time it was decided to establish an auxiliary organization, and Phelps Squadron invited the women to form an auxiliary. This invitation was accepted, and on October 14, 1914, Phelps Circle No. 1 was accordingly instituted at San Francisco.

The chief objects of this Circle are to aid and assist the veterans of the United States Navy, their widows and orphans, to aid in preserving the glorious history of the United States Navy, to perpetuate the memory of its noble dead, and to maintain allegiance to the United States of America.

Federated 1918

EDGEWOOD NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB was organized for the purpose of social, musical, and philanthropic intercourse. The Club has already affiliated with the State, District and City Federations. We have made over 100 garments for Associated Charities and Juvenile Detention Home. Every member signed the food pledge for the Government and was active in getting others to do so. Some of the ladies have offered their services to the city as jurors. There are many fine knitters in the Club and some expert needlewomen; we have all worked hard for the boys at the front. The Club meets every other Monday afternoon from one to five o'clock; afternoon tea follows. The two chairmen who have been active are Mrs. William Patch, of the Music Committee, and Mrs. Carleton Todd, of the Hospitality Committee.

LA MESA REDONDA CLUB

MRS. JOHN ROGERS, President

Organized 1910

Joined State Federation 1913

City Federation 1916

Meets first and third Fridays

IN offering her report from May, 1917, to March, 1918, La Mesa Redonda Club presents what she considers a rather large and complete record of accomplishments. In spite of the fact that many of the clubs show a decrease in membership, La Mesa Redonda has added sixteen new names to her roster. We feel that our members have been welded more closely together during the past term, and that a larger spirit of understanding and co-operation exists among them. It has been the endeavor of the President to ascertain just what particular work appealed to each individual, and then to co-ordinate the woman and the work. We have presented programs of unusual interest this year, varying in scope, and dealing with civic, philanthropic, reciprocal, social, and musical subjects. In October, 1917, we celebrated "Founders' Day" by holding our annual Club Breakfast at the St. Francis Hotel, to which the presidents of all the federated clubs in this city were invited. Our Christmas High Jinks presented to us an "Animated Doll Show," in which masterpieces of art were offered for sale.

While La Mesa Redonda always enjoys her hours of play, she is essentially a work-a-day Club, and we feel justly proud of her records offered by our Civic, Philanthropic, Housewife's League, and War Savings Stamps sections.

Under the general direction of the Civic Committee, one of our members has been present at two sessions each week of the Women's Court, and has assisted with the "follow-up" work.

Our Philanthropic Section has earned and distributed $850 from May, 1917, to March, 1918. This includes the distribution of forty-seven complete layettes, of twenty-two pieces each, value $4.75 for each layette, and $175 worth of new underwear and stockings distributed at Christmas time. We have paid house rent, gas bills, provided open-air cots for tubercular children, eye-glasses, shoes, braces, and grocery orders, and, incidentally, this section has but thirty members. We held our annual rummage sale in November, 1917, and cleared over $220. We wish to say parenthetically that anyone may become an honorary member without joining La Mesa Redonda Club on the payment of fifty cents initiation and five dollars or more per annum.

Our Housewife's League Section was the first organization of its kind to be formed among the club women of San Francisco. The section came into existence in the month of February, 1917, two months before war was declared. Meetings have been held each week, and the questions of conservation and distribution of foodstuffs considered in their various phases. The meetings have been open to all the women of the city without charge to them.

Our War Savings Stamp campaign has been most successful. We have over twenty members. We have been organized but one month, during which time we have purchased about $100 worth of stamps. La Mesa Redonda also bought two Liberty Bonds.

We have provided three splendid programs for the soldiers, and gave a dance to the enlisted men at the Fairmont Hotel during the month of May.

The President of La Mesa Redonda has had the honor of serving as publicity chairman during the recent observance of Baby-Welfare Week, and our Club has also provided the chairman of the Press Committee.

We have an active knitting unit for the Red Cross Society and are accomplishing much in this direction.

For the recognition accorded us by the very able officers of the City Federation of Women's Clubs we offer our thanks, and assure them of our deep loyalty to them and to the various enterprises they represent. They have but to call on us at any time and La Mesa Redonda will respond as one woman.

COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN

MRS. SAMUEL LANGER, President

Organized 1900

Meets second and fourth Thursdays

Federated 1917

AS an affiliated body of the national organization, it presents among its objects the furthering of united efforts in the work of social betterment, through religion, philanthropy, and education. Meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. In addition to the business conducted, each meeting presents a program designed to invite attention to some spiritual or communal endeavor. The Philanthropic Section has since 1910 successfully carried on a Neighborhood House in the San Bruno district—opposite the Portola School—the only one of its kind in that neighborhood, where there is a large immigrant population. Our workers have co-operated with the teachers of the school, and the improvement in the school work alone is noteworthy, to say nothing of the sewing classes, Mothers' Club and evening clubs for the young people.

MRS. SAMUEL LANGER
PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL OF JEWISH WOMEN

MRS. FRANCES CRAISE GILMORE
PRESIDENT WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION

Feeling that our organization and work awaiting attention were too large for us to be confined to one district, we secured in 1915, through the efforts of our Education Committee, under the leadership of Miss Rebecca Jacobs, permission to place a home teacher in the John Swett School, which is in the heart of an even larger immigrant section than the Portola School. The Council defrays the entire expense. This is the first home teacher attached to San Francisco schools.

The work done by Miss Fredricka Fox lacks not for praise from the professional educators as represented by the schools, or from the many families who have learned to look upon her as a friend. Miss Fox is not only the children's friend—she is the mothers' teacher. Classes in English and patriotic celebrations on legal holidays are among the many things being done to Americanize these strangers who have come within our gates.

The Council's Red Cross Auxiliary has three branches: Sewing, in charge of Mrs. Milton Rosenblatt; knitting, in charge of Mrs. Louis Van Vliet; and a class in surgical dressings, under the direction of Mrs. Theodore Thorner.

Other activities, such as immigrant aid and work for the blind and deaf, are being pursued only in connection with the national body.

At the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, Palace of Education, the National Council of Jewish Women was awarded the gold medal, the highest reward, for systematic work in philanthropy and education.

In addition to the work specifically undertaken by the Council, we keep in touch with social and communal affairs by contributions and memberships in organizations of special purpose, such as the Juvenile Protective Association, the Jewish Consumptive Relief Society, the American Red Star Animal Relief Society, the Recreation League, the San Francisco Public Education Society, and the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Federated 1916

THE Woman's Christian Temperance Union of San Francisco is one of the pioneer organizations of the city, having been in existence for thirty-three years. We number in this great State of California about twelve thousand women. In the United States we have about half a million members and our organization is found in every civilized country on the globe. We are, as our name implies, an organization of women banded together for the uplift of humanity.

Among our departments of which there are forty-five, you will find Health and Heredity, Press and Publicity, Temperance and Labor, Juvenile Courts, Industrial Education and Anti-Child Labor, Parliamentary Usage, Prison Reform, Americanization Work, Work Among Soldiers and Sailors, Co-operation with Women's Clubs, Moral Education and Race Betterment, Legislative and Petition, and many others.

In common with all other organizations we are specializing in these days of stress and strain on work along patriotic lines.

Work for soldiers and sailors is claiming a large part of our time and attention, and, believing that we can best conserve the health and morals of our "boys in blue" and our "boys in khaki" by doing away with the legalized liquor traffic, we are doing everything in our power to bring that to pass.

During the latter part of the year 1916 and the early part of 1917 the president of the county did a great deal of work, not only in San Francisco and around the Bay, but in San Joaquin, Stanislaus and Fresno counties, in bringing before our women's clubs the need of work along the line of the enforcement of our "Red Light Abatement Law." In March of 1917 she brought before the Advisory Board of the City Federation of Women's Clubs the bills which had been introduced in our Legislature by Friedman and Canepa—bills which if they had passed would have nullified to a large extent our Red Light Abatement Law. Vigorous telegrams of protest were sent from the Board, and they had the desired effect, for as a result of these and floods of protests from other organizations those bills were never reported out of committee.

Hundreds of comfort bags have gone out since last July to the boys of the Navy, and their letters of thanks show their appreciation of them.

Our slogan for this year is "Serve, Sacrifice and Ratify."

SAN FRANCISCO ASSOCIATION FOR THE BLIND

MISS ELIZABETH LIVERMORE, President

Organized 1902

Meets first Thursdays

Federated 1917

OBJECTS: Broom-making, sight-saving, relief work, women's classes, men's classes, home teaching, entertainment, sewing, cooking, weaving, vacation, ticket bureau (to furnish to the blind tickets for music, theater, and other entertainments), Braille instruction, and typewriting. The following articles are made by the blind workers: Brooms, hampers, wood baskets, ferneries, breakfast-room sets, desks, steamer chairs, rocking-chairs, muffin stands, book stands, glass towels, aprons, sewing stands, hammocks, woven rugs, rope rugs, and baskets of all kinds.

To feel confident that a great and lasting good can come out of so great a calamity as the present war, and to feel sure that it will benefit even that most forgotten of all creatures, a lonely, idle blind man, seem indeed optimistic, but if we look merely at this small angle of the whole conflict—namely, that of blindness—and consider what was its treatment and how a blind man was trained before the war, and now, after three years, we feel justified in making this statement.

The San Francisco Association for the Blind has always maintained that a blind man can be made a self-supporting member of the community in which he lives, if that community will co-operate to that end—that is, help to endow a factory where only blind labor is employed, and where a blind man receives instruction, and finally pay for his work, well done, and not pay merely because he is blind.

On an altogether too small a scale for a city the size of San Francisco, the San Francisco Association for the Blind has been able to prove this statement; for during the past year, with an initial investment of less than $2000, it has been able to turn out such excellent brooms that everybody now asks for "blind brooms," and $28,000 worth of business has been handled in that one department during 1917.

In a similar way, but with less capital, the Association has now started a rattan-furniture department, where all styles of reed and rattan furniture are made to your order. A seeing foreman puts up the frames and the blind workmen do the rest. The trade-mark of this furniture is "Blindcraft," and it is now exclusively handled in our downtown salesroom, 432 Sutter Street, and in the Emporium. Besides these two activities, there is a third, that is possibly due exclusively to the war—and that is a Government contract for tying and splicing knots and ropes for the different cantonments of this coast.

These three industries have so crowded our small building at 1526 California Street that a new workshop is an absolute necessity. To that end early in 1917 we sent out a letter of appeal, which netted us $3000, with which we started our building fund. Later, through an anonymous gift of $3000 and our Melting-Pot drive, we have accumulated a fund of $10,000 for our new workshop and recreation hall. When we consider that this workshop is to be for our blinded California soldiers as well as for the present San Francisco blind, we feel that it should make a very strong appeal to the public of California. We must not let our blinded soldiers return to a city that is unprepared to help them stand on their own feet; for to ask charity of the country for which they so gladly were injured would be an indelible disgrace to that country.

Therefore, in summing up the work of the past year, we consider that to have increased the field of labor for the blind, so that we will be in a position to care for our returning blinded soldiers, and to have started a fund that will provide a suitable building for this purpose, are two big steps in advance. We have made a good beginning. What will you do to help, so that California will be prepared for her blinded soldiers, when they return, and can offer them a happy, active life, with work at living wages, in a building that will indeed be a lighthouse for the blind?

DAUGHTERS OF THE CALIFORNIA PIONEERS

MRS. M. S. BIVEN, President

Organized 1900

Meets first and third Mondays

Federated 1917

THE Society of Daughters of California Pioneers was organized with forty charter members. These loyal women are banded together to perpetuate the memory of their fathers, promote an interest in California history, preserve records of value, gather objects of interest, and further the well-being of their members in a social way. In 1915 the organization presented to the city of San Francisco a drinking fountain, located in the southwestern corner of Union Square, on the occasion of the presentation of which the Municipal Band added much to the festivities by its rendition of splendid music.

A large collection of early-day relics and other mementos was presented by the Society to the Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park, and arranged there with loving care by the Society's very able historian, Mrs. J. J. Donnelly.

Only female descendants of such pioneers as are, or have been, members of the Society of California Pioneers of San Francisco are eligible to this organization.

The emblem of the Society is a pin depicting a grizzly bear in gold, surrounded by a laurel wreath, with a star above and the initials D. C. P. appearing below. The color of the organization is yellow.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF THE PALACE OF FINE ARTS

MRS. JOSEPH FIFE, Chairman

Organized 1916

Meets at call of the Chair

Federated 1917

ON November 11, 1916, there was organized at an initial luncheon at the Palace of Fine Arts the Woman's Auxiliary of the Palace of Fine Arts. The formation of the Auxiliary was the outgrowth of the work of a small group of women that had been drawn together in the closing days of the Exposition of 1915 with a common forward-looking purpose. Each had felt deeply the wide-spread interest in art that had been developed by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and that the need had been created for a great art center where should be located a museum of fine arts that would be a permanent joy and benefit to the people of San Francisco. With such an end in view these women joined with the San Francisco Art Association to help bring together moral and financial support for a San Francisco museum of fine arts, to be housed in the Palace of Fine Arts. The loveliness of this building and its environs, its great space, capable of manifold uses for art, education, and enjoyment, made it ideally fitted for the location of the new museum.

After a year of activity, finding there was need of a permanent woman's organization, the Woman's Auxiliary of the Palace of Fine Arts was formed. It is an organization without dues, bringing into its ranks the women of the community who can give active service in the building up of a great museum. One of their greatest services has been the fostering of public interest, to the end that there has been created a wide-spread and intelligent appreciation of the aims and purposes of the Palace of Fine Arts.

Events held under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Palace of Fine Arts have been: Opening luncheon, November 11, 1916; art conference, May 25-26, 1917; opening of the tea-room and ladies rest-room, September 21, 1917, and various lectures held from time to time.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD OF AMERICA SAN FRANCISCO BRANCH

MRS. JOHN LEALE, President

Organized 1894

Meets once a Year

Federated 1917

THE Needlework Guild of America was founded in the city of Philadelphia in 1885, following a plan originated in England by Lady Wolverton, who had found it most successful in her village work. The object of the Guild is to furnish new, plain, suitable garments to help meet the needs of hospitals, homes and charitable societies in the local field in which each branch is established, and the San Francisco branch was established with that object in view. It should always be borne in mind that the purpose of the Guild is to be helpful as an auxiliary to other societies, and is never competitive. It accomplishes its greatest good through associations that carefully investigate and that know how to reach the suffering and the destitute—the worthy poor who never stand and beg, but who struggle bravely to bear their burdens of poverty and illness.

From its date of foundation in San Francisco, the contributions of the branch increased at the rate of from five hundred to a thousand garments yearly, and by 1899 we had the honor of the second largest collection in the United States. And still the number increased, until our banner year brought in 13,561 garments, in the sharing of which eighty-six charities were benefited. In 1906 it was not surprising that the work suffered a comparative collapse, and that our collection took a sudden drop of 5000 garments. There was disorganization in many lines during that lamentable year of our civic history. There was the scattering of our population—temporary in most cases, permanent in many others—and there was the straining of every energy toward rehabilitation. Whatever were the contributory causes, the unfortunate effect resulted in a gradual loss of members and the collection went steadily down. The situation gradually became so depressing that the few section presidents left to us determined upon a campaign of rejuvenation, so to speak, and under the inspiring leadership of our Past President, Mrs. Almeron Skinkle, nobly assisted by every director and every member, a result highly successful was accomplished. During 1917 we almost doubled our collection of garments, we more than doubled our list of section presidents, and from the position of having a deficit in our treasury we rose to the contribution of one hundred dollars to the home office, and enough money left to conduct a similar campaign this year. This gratifying aggregate was brought about through two general mass meetings, the issuance of special circulars including return pledges for membership, and the unstinted enthusiasm of the members of the branch, each one of whom was asked to make a personal effort to secure one new member.

This year we are emphasizing the greater need of assistance in our local charity field. This year, above all others, we must clothe our worthy but helpless poor. The higher cost of food leaves little of the family income for clothing. The scarcity of fuel brings greater suffering among those inadequately clothed, and, in very many cases, the stress of war, removing the main bread-winners from the family, reduces the dependents to asking assistance from the institutions already taxed to the utmost. But we hope for compound interest in our work. The plan is very simple. The annual contribution of two or more new articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or a donation of money constitutes membership. By aggregation, directorates of eleven members are formed, and sections of five directorates; but the first requisite is the insignificant gift of two garments annually. There are few of us who cannot give and still fewer who are not glad to give these contributions, which, swelling into thousands, bring warmth and grateful happiness, and thus brightness and good cheer into the lives of those less fortunate than ourselves. "The quality of mercy is not strained . . . It blesseth him that giveth and him that taketh."

DOLORES MOTHERS' CLUB

MRS. SARA SIMONS, President

Organized 1898

Meets every Thursday

Federated 1917

THE Dolores Mothers' Club, which is auxiliary to the Girls' Club, 362 Capp Street, is composed of mothers of the girls of the Girls' Club, and our development has been largely due to our co-operation and harmony with this wonderful organization. The activities of the whole Club are in a great measure controlled by the Central Council, which is composed of representatives from each group, thus furnishing a medium for exchange of ideas and plans to be carried to the different branches by their respective presidents. The principal work for the year, as heretofore, has been sewing for the Children's Hospital, our own emergency cases, and making costumes for the various plays presented by the dramatic class of the Girls' Club.

The first Thursday of every month is devoted to a special program. The object of the afternoon is twofold—first, as a means of education, and, second, for recreation. During the year we have had the pleasure of visits and talks by prominent men and women. The talent for our programs has been furnished by the children of the Girls' Club as well as outside artists.

Then, too, we are always invited to participate in the many happy functions given by the girls, such as their monthly dances, dinners, plays, etc. The officers of our Club attend the luncheons given by the workers of the Club, and also those that are given by the committees of the Music School. The mothers take particular interest in the reports brought to them from this wonderful Music School, now successfully launched, which has three orchestras and a glee club. Individual instruction is given in the Music School by the best teachers of our city, to outsiders as well as members, at a nominal cost.

Each year we visit the different factories of the city and inquire into conditions.

A special feature is our monthly whist party, and another our gymnasium class.

We are affiliated with the Recreation League and send representatives to its monthly luncheon, and thus keep in touch with the recreational side of the city.

We are now taking an active part in all patriotic movements, Red Cross work, etc.

The Dolores Mothers' Club in general tries to keep abreast of the times, to co-operate with any movement tending to the betterment of conditions in San Francisco, especially with those affecting children.

THE GIRLS' CLUB

MRS. JESSE W. LILIENTHAL, President

Organized 1898

Meets Monthly

Federated 1917

THE Capp Street Girls' Club is a neighborhood house in the real sense of the term. It has aimed solely from its inception, eighteen years ago, to influence the lives and build the characters of young girls. In order to be a genuine social center the Club must be a place for wholesome recreation and amusement. Indeed it is the place for all the individual and collective activities which attract young people, and, under right conditions, profoundly influence them. Dancing, music, dramatics, athletics and club relationships are the means, sometimes unconsciously, of making the fine, efficient, sympathetic woman we are needing in the world. The activities of the Girls' Club are many. We have classes in dress-making, domestic science, sewing, dancing, dramatics, art, basketry, Sloyd, Red Cross aid work, etc. Our aim is to study the best interests of children and young girls and then choose the best lines of activity for them. The dramatic and music sections aim directly at a general cultivation of taste. In the last five years dozens of plays have been presented, each one demanding a little higher degree of skill than the preceding. Dickens' Christmas Carol was the last to be presented. Out of a membership of over five hundred, two hundred members of the Girls' Club are actively interested in music. Two Wednesday evenings of each month are given to recitals by professional musicians who thus kindly contribute to the enjoyment of the music pupils and the other Club members.

The Club rooms are open the entire year for the children, who spend happy hours in games, story hours and reading. Now that the music school is launched in its new quarters at 375 Capp Street, we look to Mrs. Haight, in charge of that section, to interpret its aims to the public, from whom we want help and inspiration. The Music School report follows:

MUSIC SCHOOL REPORT (Elizabeth Haight, head worker)

For many years the former head worker of the Girls' Club had in her mind and heart the idea of music for children, for the home and for the betterment of the world. This idea now has outward expression in the new Music School Settlement of the Girls' Club. The project is only six months old, and in the din of war is bringing its contribution to the new times that are to come. If music is to be the people's art of the future, as many believe it will, the Music School Settlement wants to catch the spirit now, to make real the new ideals and to make room for fresh constructions.

Two motifs may be said to underlie the work of this project: First, music means here being musical; second, music means here team work and social use. Little children, as soon as possible, play duets, trios and quartettes. Every child gets some ensemble practice, accompanying and orchestra practice. The social and musical discipline of this team work is a valuable lesson for the child, in addition to the pleasure all children take in doing things together. Children's plays are commanding incidents in the Girls' Club, and the Music School helps with dramatics and dancing. On special occasions the teachers compose and play incidental music to the beautiful enactments of the children. The three student orchestras are not for the purpose of turning out a large number of professional orchestral players, but rather for the enrichment of the life and musical impulses that are in almost everyone. At the same time this is a distinct musical line and the orchestra training meets a commercial demand of no small importance. Many young musicians who work have the time and ability to play in an orchestra which is carefully graded. Incidentally, who can estimate also the social value in collective effort, the discipline of precision, and the cultivation of taste that thus subtly make contribution to the character of boys and girls. The piano and violin departments have a steady growth and there is an interest in the study of 'cello and flute.

Recently the Board of Education and the public school teachers have shown great interest in the effort to make the Music School an ally of music in the schools. A conference is to be held soon and plans made for co-operation. Committees composed of the board of the Girls' Club, prominent musicians and others are at work on plans to make the Music School a city-wide interest, to increase the opportunities for wage earners to study music, and to correlate the Music School activities with other educational and recreational projects. For this purpose a get-together dinner and open forum is planned in order to formulate plans for the new year.

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ALUMNAE CALIFORNIA BRANCH

MRS. ERNEST J. MOTT, President

Organized 1886

Meets fourth Saturdays

Federated 1917

THE California branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae is one of eighty-five branches in the United States. The purpose of its founders was to form a channel through which college women might work to uphold high educational standards and for practical educational work. The California branch is one of the largest, and, aside from the social, does much civic as well as educational work. Through the A. C. A. Journal, a monthly publication, the branch keeps in touch with the work of national committees and the work of other branches.

As soon as war was declared a War Service Committee was organized, with Miss Gail Laughlin as chairman. This committee worked right through the summer months, and has co-operated with the Red Cross, the Y. W. C. A., the County and State Councils of Defense, and the Committee of Recreation for Soldiers and Sailors. A war fund has been raised to enable the committee to carry on its work without appealing for funds each time.

A dance was given at the Fairmont to the enlisted men, and the dramatic committee has been called upon several times for a program at various cantonments about the bay. A French war orphan is being cared for by the Branch and individual members have been contributing to Belgian and French relief.

There are two sub-committees under the War Service Committee—one on food conservation, with Miss Elizabeth Bridge as chairman, and an Americanization Committee, with Mrs. Geballe as chairman. The National Association is emphasizing the need for this work in all parts of the country, and it is a duty and a privilege for college women to be a part in any Americanization plan.

In January the Educational Section, under the chairmanship of Mrs. May L. Cheney, arranged a reception in honor of Prof. Clark Hetherington, the recently appointed Commissioner of Physical Education in California. Professor Hetherington spoke to Branch members and many actively interested in physical education on "What is Physical Education?" The Education Section studies the vital educational needs and is active in securing necessary legislation.

The School Survey Section, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jesse H. Steinhart, has assisted in a work familiar to the City Federation. This section hopes to accomplish much in the next two years, and desires the aid and co-operation of all in carrying out the recommendations of the Survey of the Bureau of Education, that the people of San Francisco may receive the best service and the fullest possible returns from their public schools. This section is working with the Public Education Society of San Francisco, studying the survey and bringing its suggestions before the public.

This year the Baby Hygiene Committee, under Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin, has widened its work, and, in addition to raising the fund for certified milk, has opened a children's health center at 343 Haight Street. This extension was deemed necessary to carry on two phases of the work in addition to the clinic for the Associated Charities' babies—a clinic for babies cared for by their own mothers, and another for conference work in prenatal care. Physicians who are members of the Branch—namely, Dr. Holsclaw, Dr. Brown, Dr. Ashe, and Dr. Crabtree—are giving most unselfishly of their time and experience to this new work. This committee is co-operating with the Federation in Baby Welfare week. The motion picture, "Motherhood," made under the direction of the physicians on the committee, has been sold to the Red Cross, and will be used by Dr. Wm. P. Lucas for child-welfare work in France as well as the United States.

The space allotted here will not permit of further reports of the many activities of the Branch. The members of this organization are keenly alive to the educational as well as civic needs, are enthusiastically in accord with the aims of the City Federation and are ready and willing to co-operate in every way.

PRESIDENTS' ASSEMBLY

MRS. LOUIS HERTZ, President

Organized 1913

Meets four times a Year

Federated 1917

THE purpose of the Presidents' Assembly is to continue the social and friendly relations established among presidents during their terms of office and to promote any other purpose approved by a majority of its members. This year (1917-1918), the biggest in the history of the world, carrying with it so much for humanity and justice, the Presidents' Assembly desired to contribute its "bit." Therefore, on June 4, 1917, at the request of the Hon. Judge Graham, chairman of the County Council of Defense, Mrs. Louis Hertz, president, took charge of the "Potato-Planting Exercises" at the old library site, corner of Van Ness Avenue and Hayes Street. The domestic plebeian spud had its day. Forty-five women from organizations responded, each planting her own potato in the name of the organization she represented. Musical numbers were given by the California Club quartette. Addresses on the significance of the occasion were made by Judge Thomas F. Graham, Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight, and Dr. Margaret McNaught of the State Board of Education. The pledge of allegiance to our flag was given by 1000 students of the High School of Commerce, led by Colonel Murphy, principal. The exercises concluded by singing "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Mrs. McGlade.

The Assembly holds its social meetings four times yearly. The first meeting was called September 14, 1917, and this date being the anniversary of the birth of "The Star Spangled Banner," a patriotic flavor was introduced by having a "meatless," "wheatless" menu of foods produced in California, thus conserving the non-perishable foods for the Allies. The guests of honor were Mrs. Cable, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Robert Burdette, past president of the State Federation; Mrs. James Rolph, wife of the Mayor of our city; Mrs. Frank Fredericks, president of the San Francisco District Federation; and Mrs. Rupert, chairman of the Biennial Board. Following the luncheon, a moving picture depicting the story of the song was shown, and, in keeping with the motif of the day, we adjourned by singing this national song.

At this meeting, also, the Assembly ratified the action of the board to present a program of entertainment to the enlisted men at the Y. M. C. A. club-house, Presidio, every Friday evening during the club year, with Mrs. Harold Seager, who originated the idea, as chairman. These programs have been presented by the following clubs: The California, the Forum, the Philomath, the Cap and Bells, La Mesa Redonda, the Players, the Pacific Musical, and the Corona, besides many talented members from the community at large.

October 31, 1917, a Hallowe'en party program was presented by the enlisted men themselves at the Y. M. C. A. club-house, and showed diversity of talent in music, drama, and terpsichorean features. At the close of the entertainment, seven hundred plates, each carrying a large bunch of Tokay grapes, two apples, a glass of jelly, and a box of cigarettes, were contributed by the Presidents' Assembly and their friends and distributed.

The second meeting was the Annual Jinks held at the Fairmont Hotel on December 1, 1917. The entertainment, called a "Café Chantant," was planned exclusively for members. Tea-service by little Chinese maids in native dress carried out the international idea. Characters impersonated by club members were Uncle Sam, Paderewski, Polish Countess, A Mexican Tamale, Swiss Organ Grinder with Bear, Italian Opera Singer, Hawaiians, 'Rastus and Mammy from the South, Sir Joseph Porter, K. C. B., Scotch Lassie, English Serving Maid, U. S. Soldier Boy, and a Jazz Band.

At a meeting of the City Federation of Women's Clubs held March 2, 1918, the president of the Presidents' Assembly presented a telegram "in behalf of the American boys in France who were found asleep at their posts." The penalty for such offense was "to be shot." This telegram was forwarded to President Wilson. A review of these cases being sent to the United States War Board by General Pershing, it has since been proven that the evidence was faulty, and these boys' lives have been saved.

Mrs. Louis Hertz, on March 19th of this year presented to the San Francisco District Convention, a resolution indorsed by Mrs. D. J. MacMaster and Mrs. Raymond Hollingsworth, to promote home gardens for the planting of vegetables, and to ask all delegates to carry the message to their respective clubs that April 1st be observed as "Victory Garden Day." The resolution was adopted on March 21st.

The third meeting of the Assembly was in the form of a tea and reception tendered to the out-of-town delegates to the San Francisco District Convention at the Palace of Fine Arts, Exposition Grounds. A program, from 4 to 6 p. m., consisting of numbers presented by soldiers and sailors stationed in our midst, was given on March 21, 1918.

On March 25, 1918, Governor William D. Stephens of California appointed the President of this club a trustee of the State Normal School of Manual Arts and Home Economics at Santa Barbara, Cal.

The Presidents' Assembly observed Mothers' Day on May 11, by taking sixty-five children from the Nursery for Homeless Children to the Casino Theater to see the children's play, "Puss in Boots." After the play the members escorted the children back to the nursery, where luncheon was served to all, followed by a business meeting.

JUVENILE PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

MRS. MARY M. FITZGERALD, President

Organized 1909 Meets quarterly, third Monday of January, May and September. Federated 1916

THE purpose of this organization shall be to work for the betterment of child life; to render friendly service in connection with Juvenile Court and probation work; to continually enforce a campaign of education along lines which will lessen delinquency and dependency; to aid through organized effort whatever promises a return in efficiency and good citizenship. The Juvenile Protective Association realizes more than ever the necessity for concentration on the preventive and protective work in which it has long been specializing. The war presents unsettled conditions in all walks of life, and particularly with regard to the children in whose interests standards must be maintained and laws enforced.

The Child Labor Committee, Mrs. Bert Schlesinger, chairman, is divided into three committees: 1. The Street Trades Committee, Mrs. George Irving, chairman, is working to prevent unlawful street trading of children, who sell newspapers, gum, lemons, and matches. 2. The Work Permits Committee, Mrs. William Hyman, chairman. Under the supervision of this committee a placement bureau has been opened in the office of the Superintendent of Schools. The first consideration of this bureau is to keep the child in school. Before the issuance of the work permit to the child, the home conditions and economic needs are investigated by this committee, and if proved necessary for the child to work, he is placed in the position for which he is best fitted. 3. "Following the Fruit" Committee, Mrs. S. J. Lisberger, chairman. Through the work of this committee much valuable information has been obtained, showing that many children, with their families, leave school for the country to pick fruit and vegetables, as early as February and return as late as October. During this period of each year these children are without schooling. This problem so impressed the officials of the Claxton Survey that it has been incorporated in the United States Government report, with recommendations to the School Department for consideration of same.

The Governor appointed the chairman of this Child Labor Committee, Mrs. Bert Schlesinger, delegate from California for the National Child Labor Committee Convention, held in Baltimore last March, and she is also the representative of the National Child Labor Committee of Northern California.

The annulment of child marriages has been successfully accomplished by this association actively interesting the Juvenile Court officials and the Juvenile Judge. Mrs. L. B. Hernon, chairman of the Special Case Committee, has given much service to this cause.

In co-operation with the Mental Hygiene Committee, the Children's Committee of the Associated Charities and the California Civic League, this association has obtained the consent of the State Board of Control at Sacramento to maintain, and the Board of Directors of the Home for the Feeble-Minded at Eldridge to put to use, three cottages to be built at Eldridge for the feeble-minded in this immediate vicinity, thereby relieving the bay cities of some of the young girls of low-grade mentality, who are a constant menace to the soldier and sailor.

Mrs. L. M. Culver represents the Juvenile Protective Association in the children's cases which come into the courts. Through the efforts of Mrs. Culver and Mrs. A. L. Gump, the first Woman's Court was established on December 4, 1916. Since that time, at its own expense, this committee has rehabilitated three hundred families.

One hundred and eighty special cases have been reported to this association and investigated by our volunteer workers.

During the summer vacation of 1916, Mrs. Harry Geballe had under her supervision twenty-seven of the boys referred to this organization by the Ethan Allen School, the expense of such supervision being paid by the Juvenile Protective Association.

We have made a gift of $1000 to the Juvenile Court at the rate of $25 per month, since which time we have continued to give $10 per month to outfit girls.

The Juvenile Protective Association, in co-operation with the Detention Home, gave an exhibit during Baby-Welfare Week at the Civic Auditorium, the expenses being shared.

We have kept in very close touch with the California School for Girls—as you know; we drew the bill for this school and financed it through two legislatures.

We helped to prove to the Playground Commission the necessity of setting apart a portion of Jefferson Square as a playground for the children of the neighborhood.

We are responsible for the creation of the position of assistant to the District Attorney, to be confined solely to the Juvenile Court in the prosecution of cases of crime against children.

The Juvenile Protective Association is constantly working upon that most important juvenile protection, the Curfew Law. We have had printed many copies of the law, which have been distributed through the co-operation of the Board of Education and other social agencies.

Wherever legislative matters concerned child welfare this Association was most active. Letters and telegrams were sent to legislators in regard to bills pending before them.

The necessity for juvenile protective work is increasing daily, and in order to meet the demands made upon us we must have an enlarged membership. We acknowledge with thanks the generous support already accorded us by clubs and individuals, and ask its continuance and extension.

LINCOLN PARK WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. J. J. Pratt, President

Organized 1917

Meets first Fridays

Federated 1918

THE object of the Club shall be to foster the spirit of fellowship and advance the intellectual, moral and spiritual welfare of its members and the interests of the church and community in ways consistent with high Christian ideals. The purposes of this organization shall be to carry on the work of the following departments: Social and Civic Improvement, Mothers' Department, Current Events.

Fellowship. All members are to be enrolled in this department, of which the President shall be the leader.

We have listened to some excellent lectures on different subjects by professionals, been entertained with musical programs by excellent talent, and many discussions on the "Topics of the day" were entered into by the members of the Club with great interest. Considering the age of the Club, the year's work has been a success, and I firmly believe that the members have profited by belonging to the Club, judging from the enthusiasm and good-fellowship displayed at all times. The success of the Club is due to the combined effort and earnest work of your committees, backed up by the loyal support of the members themselves.

Co-operation, work and harmony are good watchwords for all, and it has been your retiring President's aim that these three attributes should prevail in Lincoln Park Woman's Club.

Financially, our Club is doing well. We have had some little expense in connection with our Club work, but still our treasury balance is increasing. At each meeting we are adding new members to our list. We formed a Red Cross unit with twenty of our members, meeting once a week, sewing and knitting; have also given an entertainment for the soldiers.

The retiring President trusts that the Club will be as fortunate the coming year in having committees that will do their work as well as the retiring committees have done. During the whole year the good of the Club has been uppermost in our thoughts. The President has served the Club to the best of her ability. She wishes to express her sincerest thanks and appreciation to her officers, to the members of the various committees and to the Club at large for the many kindnesses extended during the year as their President. As for her successor, we wish for her a most successful year, and trust that the Club will give her the same loyal support that has been given during the past year.

TEACHERS' COUNCIL No. 8

MISS NELLIE C. SULLIVAN, President

Organized 1898

Meets second Mondays

Federated 1917

COUNCIL No. 8, one unit of the Association of Teachers' Councils, was organized for the purpose of aiding the child, the school and the teacher, and to bring before the proper authorities matters for the betterment of the schools and all concerned. The Council remained as part of the Association of Teachers' Councils until the reorganization in 1917 into the Teachers' Association of San Francisco, when Council No. 8 became a member of the new association.

This new association is composed of practically every member of the school department, and its purpose is to act in all matters that concern the department as a whole, and to unify and correlate the work of different educational clubs whose presidents are members of both of its governing bodies.

Council No. 8 meets monthly at Hale's Pompeian Court, where topics of interest are discussed and an enjoyable afternoon is spent. The Council joined the City Federation of Women's Clubs of San Francisco, and its members have greatly enjoyed and benefited by attending the various sections and conventions of the Federation.

PACIFIC COAST WOMEN'S PRESS ASSOCIATION

MRS. E. D. DONOVAN, President

Organized 1890

Joined City Federation of Women's Clubs 1916

Meets second and fourth Mondays

THE Pacific Coast Women's Press Association, the first strictly literary organization of the Pacific Coast, was inaugurated for the purpose of uniting the women writers of the Coast in good fellowship, for mutual benefit and advancement, and to further their professional interests. California has produced many famous writers and on the roster of the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association are found the names of all the illustrious literary women of its history.

For the past two years every effort has been made to stimulate and encourage constructive literary development, and worthy progress has been made. The premier presentation of sketches, short stories, songs and poems—the work of members—has been a feature of the public meetings.

For the purpose of founding a club library to replace the one destroyed in the great fire, a social afternoon affair was given in January, 1917, at the St. Francis Hotel, which proved to be a gratifying success, more than six hundred women attending. A handsome sum was realized and the desired bookcase purchased, but the nation's need becoming paramount, by universal consent of the membership, much of this book fund has been diverted into the purchase of Liberty Bonds or used for kindred purposes. Cash prizes amounting to seventy-five dollars were awarded in the April, 1917, literary contest. A pleasant afternoon tea was given during March at the Hotel Fairmont to enable the president and members to meet informally.

It was decided early in the club year of 1918 that war activities must necessarily occupy the major portion of the time and energy of all organized bodies of patriotic women, and earnest efforts have been made to meet the manifold demands of the hour. The Association was among the first to respond to the call from the City Federation of Women's Clubs for War Camp Service, and a delightfully successful ball was given for the enlisted men at the St. Francis Hotel on the night of September 22d. Many distinguished guests were present, and to the boys of the army and navy it was a genuine treat, as evidenced in this statement made by one of their number—"God bless the organization that made this evening possible."

Another brilliant entertainment was given in the same good cause on the night

MRS. KATHERINE BENNETT

MRS. E. D. DONOVAN
PRESIDENT OF PACIFIC COAST WOMAN'S PRESS ASSOCIATION

of Monday, October 8, 1917, in the ballroom of the Hotel Fairmont—a musicale, provided by the best artists of the Coast, under the able direction of Hugo and Mrs. Mansfeldt. This concert proved to be a memorable occasion and will scarcely be forgotten by those attending. An exciting thrill was experienced early in the evening when word was received that the good ship "Oregon" had been ordered "out" at once. A portentous message, and one to make hearts stand still in fearful anticipation. Many of the evening's invited guests were to have come from that famous old vessel, then anchored in the bay. Some had already arrived. These departed hastily, leaving with those present a deeper, sadder realization of our nation's actual participation in the world's great struggle. A still more dramatic situation developed at the ferry, where a large body of men from the "Oregon" had reached the landing and were disembarking preparatory to marching up to the Fairmont, accompanied by a military band, when the startling order reached them and they hurriedly returned to the ship, to steam away quietly a few hours later on an unknown mission—perhaps to an unknown fate—somewhere out on the Pacific.

The club, early in the year, took out a membership in the State and National Defense Association. A knitting auxiliary of seventy women is now steadily turning out a splendid supply of knitted garments for the Red Cross. A sewing unit, under the direction of Miss Bessie Roche, is doing work each week at the Red Cross workrooms. The soliciting of Red Cross memberships, both in the club and on the outside, is being energetically followed up, with good results. A scholarship was taken in the Educational Department of the Red Cross. An appropriation was made for the Christmas treat provided for children of enlisted men—a part of the City Federation work.

On the evening of March 1, 1918, at the Y. M. C. A. building at the Presidio, the Association gave a program of music and reading for the pleasure of the enlisted men. As the result of an illuminating talk given before the club by Mrs. E. D. Knight, a War Savings Association was formed, which has made a creditable beginning.

While the customary activities of the club have been largely diverted to national service, much encouragement has been offered the membership in their literary pursuits during the present club season. High-class programs, both literary and musical, have been given, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Hugo Mansfeldt; all accompanied by the musical click of the busy little knitting needles. A recent membership meeting was made particularly interesting by Dr. Anna Nicholson, who gave a most enjoyable talk on "Lowell, the American." Dr. Nicholson, one of the prominent educators of San Francisco, is the fifth vice-president of the Association and a member of whom the club is justly proud. She is at present devoting much time to the direction of a corps of teachers who have in charge the educational work among the illiterate and foreign-born recruits at the Presidio.

The annual literary contest took place in April, 1918, when one of the three Liberty Bonds purchased by the club was awarded the writer of the best short story. California Day was fittingly celebrated and the annual breakfast given, when the interesting program rendered was supplied by talented members of the organization. The membership of the club has steadily increased and the Association closed the year in excellent financial standing; never better in its history. What effect this epoch-making, precedent-upsetting war will have upon the literature of the future is interesting to surmise. It is possible that the Pacific Coast Women's Press Association may yet record the startling success of some literary genius, whose name even now enrolled in its year-book is destined to bring added glory to the long list of famous California writers. Ina Coolbrith—poet laureate of California—life member and revered past-president of the organization, in a recent interview, makes this little prophecy: "I am certain that California is to be the Parnassus of the Nation. It is here that the poetry of the coming generation is to be dreamed, for here, you know, one has the blessed privilege of communing with God, as expressed in the ocean, the mountains, the trees and rocks—everything that has form and color. It is here that the soul expands, and in the expansion produces music."

To Mrs. Hugo Mansfeldt, chairman of program for the past year, the Association tenders its most grateful acknowledgments for the high-class work rendered.

P. E. O. SISTERHOOD, CHAPTER A. M.

MRS. R. T. CROCKER, President

Organized 1916

Meets first and third Fridays

Federated 1917

THE founding of the P. E. O. Sisterhood at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, in the Wesleyan University, January 20, 1869, was the result of college friendship. Seven college girls banded themselves together, forming a local society from which emerged a national organization. The beginning of the mystic circle was very simple and modest; they did not expect to grow, but others desiring to unite caused a better democratic spirit to prevail, which resulted in widening the circle, and, instead of the mystic seven, over thirty thousand now wear the star in the United States.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood is not as well known on the Pacific Coast as in the Middle West, the land of its birth. It was the second of women's clubs to be organized in the sixties, and has the distinction of being the only secret society among women independent of a higher order of men.

The society, for the purpose of systematic government, is divided into Supreme Chapters, State Chapters and Local Chapters.

Objects and Aims: The object of this society shall be general improvement, which shall comprehend more especially the following points:

(1) Individual growth in charity toward all with whom we associate, and a just comprehension and adherence to the qualities of Faith, Love, Purity, Justice, and Truth.

(2) To seek growth in knowledge and in mental culture, and to obtain all possible wisdom from nature, art, books, study, society, and to radiate all light possible by conversation, by writing, and by the right exercise of any talent we possess.

(3) To aim at moral culture, self control, equipoise and symmetry of character, and at temperance in opinions, speech and habits.

The principal philanthropy is the education of young women by means of an educational fund; this fund promises to reach the sum of one hundred thousand dollars by January 20, 1919, the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of P. E. O.

Some organizations build memorials in stone; the P. E. O. Sisterhood has built a "Memorial in Girls."

CALIFORNIA WOMAN'S STATE DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

U. S. SENATOR JAMES D. PHELAN, Honorary President

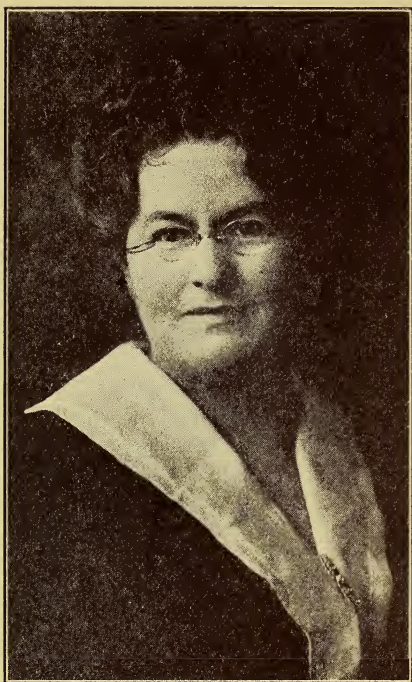

MRS. C. W. MILLER, President

Organized 1914

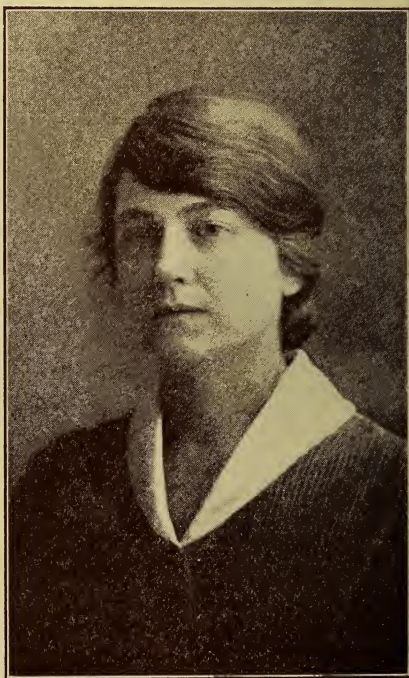

Meets first Wednesdays

Federated 1918

FROM the greater activities incidental to a Presidential campaign we have come to the many smaller but very important duties that invariably present themselves to interested workers for public welfare. During the past year we have found much to occupy our utmost thoughts, and have aimed to do our part in solving the many unusual problems that present themselves in a war-time period. The regular meetings of the club were held on the first Wednesday of each month during the year, with the exception of June and July. During an Eastern visit, the fact was discovered that conditions in other places affected by the war were very similar to ours, and it was realized how closely united we are in spite of the fact that distances are so great.

MRS. C. W. MILLER
PRESIDENT OF CALIFORNIA WOMAN'S STATE
DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

MRS. R. T. CROCKER
PRESIDENT OF P. E. O., CHAPTER A. M.

The League worked for and endorsed several bills in the last Legislature, namely, The Old Peoples' Pension Bill, Tuberculosis Hospital Bill, and the Normal School Site. A committee from the League met with his honor, Mayor Rolph, by previous appointment, relative to the construction of the much-needed public comfort stations, requesting that when the plans were drawn they be designed as surface stations, the reasons therefor being readily understood. Communications were sent to the Board of Public Works relative to the absence of fire escapes on large buildings housing many tenants, and requesting that measures be taken to safeguard the occupants. The President of the Board in answer to our communications readily complied with our requests, and I take great pleasure in here stating that our city officials readily granted us their assistance on every occasion where we appealed to them, and this closer touch with the working forces of the municipality strongly impressed us with the great responsibilities of our city government and the earnest efforts with which those responsibilities are undertaken.

The League has endorsed and assisted for public office such individuals as have by their education and achievements seemed best adapted to represent the greater army of citizens who look to them for the proper conduct of the city's affairs, and who shall be responsible to their constituents for such conduct of public office as will reflect honor on their selection and pride in their success. The President has personally attended conferences and public meetings in the interest of the League and has reported to the League all matters of common interest, aiming to keep in touch with the best thought of the moment, that it may be passed on for the general good.

We attended a recent meeting where his excellency, Governor Stephens, made the principal address, and where representatives of seven active organizations spoke on the absorbing topics of the day and delivered their message to a large audience. Among the speakers were Miss Moore, of the Food Administration; Mrs. Katherine Edson, of the Industrial Welfare; Mrs. Turner, of the Council of Defense, Mrs. Moody and others. This meeting represented thousands of women interested in the nation's work.

It was our pleasant privilege to assist in the entertainment of distinguished visitors, members of the National Committee visiting our city, who brought us a message from Washington. Notably among these were Mrs. George Bass of Chicago, identified with the Women's Bureau, National Committee, Washington, D. C., who came in the interest of the Liberty Loan. Mrs. Bass spoke of her visits in the other states and of conditions existing there and the different aspects of women in civil life. The members of the League pledged their assistance to the Liberty Loan drive and recommended and advised all with whom they met to purchase Liberty Bonds. The League, through its President and members, has subscribed to the Red Cross, Liberty Bonds, Thrift Stamps, and also has been active in assisting in the recent campaign for food conservation, for which activity Mr. Ralph Merritt sent a personal letter of thanks.

We have assisted individuals by securing employment and by supplying clothing; have counseled and advised young girls in their efforts to improve their condition, and at all times and in all places where the need seemed greatest we have used our best influence for the personal welfare and success of the individual, feeling that by so doing we have augmented the importance of our community. We have been democratic in the broadest interpretation of the word, and in all our efforts have contributed to the honor of our state, that she may always be an honor to our nation.

The members of the League have been ardent workers for the suffrage movement, many of them being pioneers in the work in this state and in other states where they resided previous to taking up their residence in California. We desire above all things the passage of the Federal amendment, feeling strongly that that which is of benefit to the women of one state is equally good for the women of all the states. In this connection it seems fitting to call attention to the strong position taken by the Hon. James D. Phelan, the senior senator from California, who is strongly in favor of the national amendment:

Senator Phelan's Letter Follows:

"If the women of California and New York, the representative states of the West and the East, are capable of exercising the suffrage, then women of other states are. It requires three-fourths of the states, however, to ratify the proposed Federal amendment, and, therefore, thirteen States can prevent it, and every state will have an opportunity, through the Legislature, of saying 'yea' or 'nay.' So the rights of the states are reasonably well protected. The reason why I support woman suffrage is not only because the women will bring sense as well as sympathy, justice as well as humanity to the popular verdict, but because of the beneficial effect it will have upon women themselves and their status and condition in life. Possessing suffrage, perhaps even the Southern negroes, both men and women, will be benefited in their unequal struggle, whether they actually exercise the elective franchise or not. They are at all times a potential factor and will, therefore, be 'cultivated' rather than neglected.

"When the President, however, encouraged the adoption of the Federal amendment, he doubtless realized that if, under the Constitution, three-fourths of the states come to a common conclusion, it was safe to assume that it is the demand of the nation in providing for its own welfare as a whole. In the case of human slavery, while it was believed at the time that the emancipation would be of material injury to one section, it has proved otherwise, and has served as well the greater and more compelling cause of freedom and humanity, which dictated the immortal declarations of Jefferson and Lincoln.

"It is also true that the war has established the position of women in the industrial world. Men now realize the economic equality of women. When men necessarily were called from their work, the women took it up, and in every field they shall henceforth be regarded as co-workers and comrades. Their interest in the public welfare certainly is as great, if not greater than men's, and the possession of the franchise educates and empowers at the same time. The personal influence of women, so important in the scheme of life, cannot be destroyed by law, because no human ordinance can repeal Nature's decree, which is of higher authority than any man-made constitution. For these reasons I will support the Susan B. Anthony amendment now before the Senate, and I am confident it will speedily prevail."

Federated 1917

THIS Club is composed of all women teachers or school officials or women who are especially interested in educational work. The purpose of the Club is:

1. To cultivate professional spirit among the women teachers of the state, that they may have a broader outlook upon their work and conception of it;
2. To encourage women teachers to organize as a help toward the above, that they may work together and have opportunities to discuss professional problems;
3. To promote acquaintance and fellowship among women teachers, in order that co-operation may enable them to make their work more effective and secure adequate recognition of its worth.

LAUREL HALL CLUB

MISS JESSICA LEE BRIGGS, President

Founded February, 1886

Joined City Federation of Women's Clubs in 1916

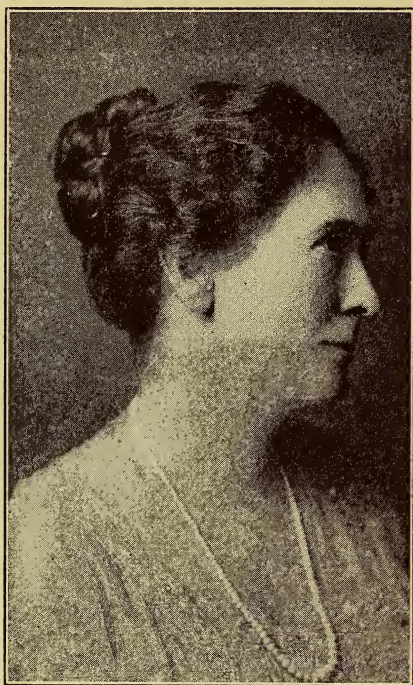

Meets first and third Wednesdays

LAUREL HALL is the oldest woman's club in San Francisco. It is an outgrowth of "Laurel Hall Association," which was formed by the pupils of Laurel Hall Seminary. This seminary, being at the time among the most representative of schools for young ladies on the Pacific Coast, was established and controlled by Mrs. L. Mason-Buckmaster, one of California's educators.

"Laurel Hall Association" was formed as a sort of moral and financial adjunct of the Laurel Hall Seminary, and the art of "Home Making," known today as Home Economics, was at first the main study and interest. After the death of the founder, Mrs. Buckmaster, the organization became known as Laurel Hall Club, and as a club its membership included many San Francisco women of the past generation who were especially talented in literary and other accomplishments. The Club has always been a club in which encouragement—not criticism—kindness and cordial hospitality are the dominating influences. The section work of the Club has been of especial value in the past in the individual development of its members along the study of art, literature and social work. During the past two years the keynote has been Service. Through the establishment of a Christmas bazaar, a fund has been raised by the Social Service Section to be used in its work. From December 1, 1916, to December 1, 1917, the Club has supported a tubercular patient, a small lame boy, at the Bothin Farm, Marin County; in 1917-1918 it has supplied a directorship to the San Francisco Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, which includes a money donation and twenty-two garments. Through the efforts of its members, $63.00 was collected at Christmas time for the Children's Hospital and at the same time secured $300.00 for memberships in the Red Cross drive. The Club gave a special Christmas entertainment for the children of the San Francisco Nursery for Homeless Children, and supplied the Nursery with its Christmas tree and a large box of gifts for Christmas Day. Magazines and books for a permanent library at Mare Island were collected, a yearly membership of $10.00 in the National Child Welfare Association taken, also a $10.00 subscription given to the "House of Friendship" (a home established in San Francisco for destitute girls and young women).

The Club has invested $500.00 in Liberty Bonds and has voted to invest $1000.00 in the third issue in April. It has donated $20.00 to the "Princess di Strongoli-Pignatelli Fund for Wounded Italian Soldiers," thirty of the members assisting materially in making the "Tea" at the Palace Hotel, March 18th, for the benefit of this fund, its great success. Through the chairman of the committee working on the second Liberty Loan Bond issue, $7500.00 was reported for the "Women's Committee" working to procure data for women's investments in same.

Laurel Hall Club has a Red Cross Auxiliary composed of two units of fifteen members, which works at the White House Dry Goods Co. on Mondays and Thursdays, and a knitting unit of fifty members, one of which is a man, and a sweater a day was turned in in February. A Thrift Stamp and War Savings Society was formed during February, to which twenty-five names have been signed

(the membership of Laurel Hall Club being about one hundred and fifty), and the Club possesses a service flag with twenty-eight stars.

In 1917-1918 regular programs on subjects of general interest have been given on the regular meeting days at the Club headquarters, 1750 Clay Street, and among the social functions were: A dance to enlisted men, given in conjunction with Mills Club at the Hotel St. Francis; a Thanksgiving Day luncheon for members only; a club dance for members, their husbands and guests, at the Hotel St. Francis; a "Pink Tea" Jinks (members only); a card party, and the Annual Breakfast for members and guests, all in the Italian Room, St. Francis Hotel. A tea (members only) was given at the Palace Hotel on the third Wednesday in March, and it was voted that a reception and tea be given on the closing day of the Club year, May 15th, for members and guests at the Palace of Fine Arts.

Laurel Hall Club is a member of the Juvenile Protective Association.

Among the actions taken by the Club in 1917-1918 were endorsements of a resolution asking for conformity of architecture of the state building to be erected in the Civic Center of San Francisco to the city buildings therein; a vote to exempt members from any action which would impose a tax on the minority of its members; endorsed Women on Juries; endorsed the Susan B. Anthony amendment before Congress in January, and has admitted without initiation into membership the wives of men enlisted in the service. Several of the Club members have since January, 1918, served as jurors. In January the Club voted unanimously that no further newspaper notices be given out.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON HOME

MRS. VIRGINIA M. SPINKS, President

Organized 1889

Meets first Thursdays

Federated 1917

THE Florence Crittenton Home is endorsed by the State Board of Charities and Corrections, and the Charities Endorsement Committee. It is a branch of the National Florence Crittenton Mission, chartered by special act of Congress, April 9, 1898, Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, M. D., D. Sc., president. The national work consists of a chain of eighty-two homes, endorsed by President Wilson, ex-President Roosevelt, ex-President Taft, and other prominent men and women.

The financial statement for 1917 shows that there was a balance on hand of $660.68 on January 1st, and there was received during the year $7734.28. The disbursements during 1917 amounted to $6539, leaving a cash balance on January 1, 1918, of $1855.96.

In addition to the girls remaining in the home on the first of January, 1917, there were received during the year 72 adults, with 59 births, making a total of 161 cared for during the year. Twenty-three of the young mothers returned to their parents' home, with their babies; 10 gave their babies in adoption; 7 married and established homes; 11 are employed and pay for the care of their babies;

5 remain in the home; 3 lost their babies by death. The nationalities represented were American, English, Russian, German, Danish, Swedish, Italian, Japanese, French, and colored.

Girls have been sent by hospitals, Associated Charities, Juvenile Courts, physicians, newspaper offices, Travelers' Aid, Rockhurst Center, U. S. Immigration Bureau, etc., and have come from every part of the State.

The Home is inter-denominational. The only requisite for assistance is that a girl is in need of a friend, and is willing to be helped. No fee is charged; but if a girl or her family is able to make any return for her care, they are expected to do so.

Special attention is given to their training in domestic science and the care of children.

Although girls are received from the courts, the Home is entirely paternal in government, with no bolts or bars, the girls remaining because they are anxious to redeem the mistakes of the past.

The pathetic fact that many of those helped cannot be called women, but are only children, should appeal to every generous-hearted woman and chivalrous man. Girls as young as fourteen years have been in the Home during the past year, the average age being eighteen years. The quality of the girls who have entered the Home during the last six months is unparalleled. Each one, with scarcely an exception, gives evidences of refined home training. They are valuable material for the upbuilding of our community, and to throw them aside as outcasts forever would be wasting priceless potential citizenship. At least seventy-five per cent of these unfortunates are giving every evidence of having begun a useful career. Few institutions can show so large a percentage. This fact shows the large returns that have been made upon the investment.

This Home was the first institution of its kind organized on the Pacific Coast, and at present it is the only one dealing with this class in San Francisco. Our work is worthy—so worthy that we hope some day we shall find a friend, as some of our Homes have throughout the United States, who will build for us a proper plant, fully equipped for the saving of our girls. We are operating a factory—a factory in which we regenerate defective material and take the new material—the tiny, helpless, fatherless babe—and put it on the right road to become a credit to the state—not a menace.

SAN FRANCISCO STATE NORMAL SCHOOL PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

MRS. CHARLES S. AIKEN, President

Organized 1908

Meets second Fridays

Federated 1916

THE constitution of almost all mothers' clubs and parent-teachers' associations explains that their dedicated purpose is to supplement the work of the school, and to co-operate as far as possible toward the establishment of a rich relationship between home and school. It connotes the community-center plan, that democratic dream which would focus neighborhood co-operation and activity in the schoolhouse, as open forum, polling place, community playground and music center. This is the far goal. But until the mothers' club comes into its own, until boards of education encourage and promote community centers, and principals wave beckoning, not deterring, hands, its chief activity will be the furthering of the civic work of the several federations, city, district, state and national. Though devoted, the work of the individual club finds neither strength nor significance until it join the stream of federation. No chronicle or report which does not accent this fact can give an adequate impression of the cumulative force of these humble, struggling associations.

The school work of this particular organization is negligible. There is no germ of a community center, nor hope yet of one. The students of the training school come from all quarters, the children are drawn from the four corners of town. Perhaps its new site, facing the Fine Arts Palace, may give it a neighborhood atmosphere, but the site waits with the possibility on happier, post-bellum days.

For a year and a half a committee under the leadership of Mrs. H. B. Harker financed and managed the children's lunchroom, serving hot lunches to eighty or one hundred children daily; serving them, moreover, at cost, overhead expenses being eliminated because of the voluntary service of a few of the mothers who think in terms of one hundred per cent. This work has now been resigned to the department of Domestic Science. Another committee, under the leadership of Mrs. E. J. Mott, organized a weekly entertainment of moving pictures for the children of the school.

This club initiated the idea of Red Cross scholarships, being the first organization in San Francisco to endow scholarships in First Aid, Elementary Hygiene and Dietetics; also in a University Extension Course of Public Speaking. A class of its members has completed a University Extension Course of Dietetics, and is enrolled as a speakers' group on food conservation for the San Francisco Congress of Mothers and for the Woman's County Council of Defense. This association also initiated the movement among San Francisco mothers' clubs long before our entrance into the war of caring for at least one meal a day for at least one Belgian child; it contributes regularly to the shoe fund of the philanthropy section of the federation, and to the Juvenile Protective Association; contributed towards a Liberty Bond, and has assisted in every war drive.

This progressive school owns to a happy belief pageant and ritual as a means of motivation. One of its happy successes is the bi-annual Guild, a musical ritual of what might be termed "Parent-Teacher Association," an uplifting and touching ceremonial of parent and teacher co-operation. With such a motivating bi-annual prod, a mothers' club must surely some day come here into its own, parents and teachers, "each, a woman consecrate in woman's work."

THE TEACHER'S CREED (from the Guild)

"I believe in boys and girls, the men and women of a great tomorrow, that whatsoever the boy soweth, the man shall reap. I believe in the curse of ignorance, in the efficacy of schools, in the dignity of teaching, and in the joy of serving others. I believe in wisdom as revealed in human lives as well as in the pages of a printed book. I believe in lessons taught, not so much by precept as by example, in ability to work with the hands as well as to think with the head, in everything that makes life large and lovely. I believe in beauty in the schoolroom, in the home, in daily life and in out-of-doors. I believe in laughter, in love, in faith, in all ideals and distant hopes that lure us on. I believe that every hour of every day we receive a just reward for all we are and all we do. I believe in the present and its opportunities, in the future and its promises, and in the divine joy of living."

ALPHA NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

MRS. CHARLES W. WRIGHT, President

Organized 1911

Meets second Fridays

Federated 1916

IN August, 1911, several women of the Park and Ashbury Heights district called a meeting for the purpose of discussing the advisability of forming a club for women. A committee on organization was appointed. The constitution and by-laws that were adopted, when presented by the committee, set forth most clearly the purpose of the organization: "The object of this Club is to promote the moral, intellectual, social and civic good; to meet conditions that are detrimental which may arise, and to raise them to a higher standard; to facilitate this purpose, the Alpha Neighborhood Club became a League of the Juvenile Protective Association."

The name of the Club is self-explanatory. It was the first neighborhood club of women to organize for civic, social service and cultural purposes, and the first organization of this character to hold all meetings in the evening, thus permitting women employed through the day to have the privilege of attending.

Our first accomplishment worthy of note was that of securing an appropriation of $25,000 for the improvement of Buena Vista Park. Through this work we attracted the attention of the men's improvement clubs of this district to the possibilities of this wonderful hill. By the joint efforts of all forces, other appropriations have been secured, with the result that this locality has now one of the most unique and beautiful small parks of the city. Through our efforts the number of plain-clothes officers have been greatly increased in Golden Gate Park, making this pleasure spot much safer for women and children.

The moving-picture theaters of Haight Street have been brought up to a very high standard. We have accomplished this by close attention, praising the good and condemning the bad. Poolrooms and other undesirable places have been closely observed. In some instances we have been instrumental in having the Police Commissioners close detrimental places on Stanyan Street. During three seasons we opened the assembly hall of Grattan School one evening each month and invited the public to interesting and instructive lectures, which were supplemented by literary and musical numbers. Since the year of the Exposition we have held our regular business and program meetings in a smaller place. Admission to these meetings is through the medium of guest cards, which are freely supplied to members. The guest cards bear the following little message to all who receive them:

"Heart and brain we're standing ready,
With a word, a thought, a smile,
Trusting that our joint endeavors
Make our neighborhood worth while."

THE Philomath Club, composed of Jewish women, the first of its kind in the world, was founded in 1894 by Mrs. Isidor Lowenberg, who served the Club as president for many years, and is now its honorary president. Mrs. Lowenberg was one of the organizers of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, Philomath joining this organization in 1900. Mrs. Lowenberg, a woman of high intellectual attainments, took her little child by the hand and guided her through many rocky paths, and when she found that her offspring could walk alone, gave up the reins of office to engage in her numerous philanthropic and civic activities.

The charter members were Mrs. I. Lowenberg, Mrs. Helen Hecht, Mrs. A. S. Bettelheim, Mrs. Wm. Haas, Mrs. J. H. Neustadter, Mrs. Chas. L. Ackerman, Mrs. Moses Heller, Mrs. S. Nickelsburg, Mrs. H. Anspacher Meyers.

The Grim Reaper has taken two charter members from our midst during the last nine months—Mrs. J. H. Neustadter and Mrs. Helen Hecht, past president, both earnest workers and lovable women. May a sweet repose be a well-earned reward!

The following presidents have served Philomath: Mrs. Julius Kahn, Mrs. Helen Hecht, Mrs. M. C. Sloss, Mrs. Henry Sahlein, Mrs. Abraham Lincoln Brown, Mrs. David Henderson, and Mrs. S. S. Kahn.

The activities of Philomath have been varied and interesting. A scholarship is maintained for a deserving young girl to enter high school (this scholarship is in its third year); a sum of money has been pledged to the Library Fund in the Palace of Fine Arts; a donation has been given for a Red Cross scholarship; and substantial investments have been made in Liberty Bonds. When a cry of distress came from across the water from people of our own persuasion, Philomath twice answered that call most liberally. The Red Cross appeal was answered and the brightest star in Philomath's firmament is the auxiliary to the San Francisco Chapter, of which Mrs. Arthur Fisher is chairman. This auxiliary commenced work in October, making a little less than five thousand surgical dressings and muslin bandages. From January the work increased to eight thousand, in February to twelve thousand, and in March to eighteen thousand. Our hospital garment room has an average output of one dozen sets weekly. During February the rooms have been refurnished, having a complete equipment. The upkeep of this auxiliary is maintained by Philomath.

PURPOSES of the Home: It provides for self-respecting unemployed women, protection, with uplifting home influence, temporary shelter and food, clinical treatment, hospital care and medicine, employment, and legal advice. It provides also for a limited number of low-salaried girls, room and board at $2.50 per week, with use of laundry and bath. We co-operate with the Associated Charities, the Travelers' Aid, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Salvation Army, the Hebrew Board of Relief, the University Hospital, the City and County Hospital, and the Federal Employment Bureau.

During 1916 the Home provided temporary shelter and food, on an average, for twenty-eight women each month, and 14,625 meals were served, besides securing employment and positions for a majority of the applicants.

Mrs. L. A. Young is the efficient superintendent, and the Home is open for inspection at any time. All its books are audited yearly. This organization is endorsed by the Charities Endorsement Committee and San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

VITTORIA COLONNA CLUB

MRS. ANITA LASTRETO PHILLIPS, President

Organized 1909

Meets every Saturday

Federated 1916

ONLY women Italian by birth or parentage, or women married to Italians are eligible to membership in Vittoria Colonna Club. The Club has been actively interested in all matters pertaining to civic betterment and intellectual advancement, but the following report proves that our most effective work has been along philanthropic lines. We have given aid to more than 500 families, providing food, clothing, fuel, bedding, furniture, railroad fares, vacations, paying rents, and securing employment, expending in this about $4,500.00.

Our Aid Committee, which has been sewing regularly twice a month, making layettes, has completed and distributed about 2500 garments. The committee also made a graduation dress and a confirmation dress. We maintained for two years the Vittoria Colonna Settlement, where women were taught to sew and to take proper care of their homes. About 150 garments were made yearly and given to those attending. The apartment was donated, rent free.

Through private subscription and contributions, we maintained the Vittoria Colonna kindergarten in the Washington Irving School, at an expense of $1,642-.23, until it was finally taken over by the city. Our annual Christmas tree, given at the home of one of our members, gives holiday cheer to about seventy poor children. Each child is presented with one practical article of clothing, besides candies, cakes, etc.

Vittoria Colonna Club is a member of the Italian Board of Relief formed during the last year, which corporation will relieve Vittoria Colonna Club of its charity work. Members can now devote their efforts to child welfare and the Red Cross work. About five months ago we formed a knitting auxiliary for the Red Cross, and we have completed 170 sweaters, 60 pairs of socks, 35 mufflers, 15 helmets, and 10 wristlets. We have a Red Cross sewing auxiliary which has been sewing at Red Cross headquarters every Wednesday afternoon for more than a year. Vittoria Colonna Club was sponsor for a series of twelve cooking demonstrations. About 100 women were taught food conservation, canning, preserving, war breads, and all things vital to housewives at this time.

Our members have acted at courts and elsewhere as interpreters, have accompanied invalids to clinics, have assisted Travelers' Aid, sale of Christmas seals, Red Cross drive, the Associated Charities $1.00 drive, the City Beautifying Committee for 1915, Baby Welfare, sent 7000 postals for the Booster Committee for 1915, assisted in seed planting on Telegraph Hill. Our Housing Committee gave valuable assistance to San Francisco Center, going systematically through the North Beach district. We had charge of the laying of the cornerstone and the dedication of the Jean Parker School; assisted in securing funds to preserve the Palace of Fine Arts. We acted as censors in three nickelodeons for nearly one year. Through the medium of bazaars, balls, theater parties and calls upon our treasury, we contributed $2,000.00 for a thoroughly equipped ambulance for Italy; $400.00 sent to the School for Maimed in Turin; $312.90 to earthquake sufferers in Italy; $300.00 for the Red Cross at Rome; $200.00 relief work in Naples; $100.00 for the School for Maimed in Rome; $20.00 to orphans of St. Joseph's Home; $40.00 to save the home of an aged invalid; $20.00 to Jewish war sufferers; $20.00 to four day homes; $15.00 tuition for a poor boy with artistic talent; $10.00 People's Philharmonic Association; $10.00 Italian school; $5.00 library at Mare Island; $5.00 library Woman's Council of Defense.

One of our aims is to found a maternity home, and while the realization of our desire seems to be somewhat in the distant future, we have a substantial sum as a nucleus. We have purchased a $100 Liberty Bond; have a War Savings Stamp club, and many of our members are diligently working in the Third Liberty Loan drive. We have recently formed a choral, which promises to give us much pleasure. Our first appearance in public will be at a benefit for the war sufferers of Italy next month. A section for the study of the Italian language is another new feature which is proving very interesting. We have had some excellent programs in music, art, literature, health, child welfare, vocational training, landmarks, war conditions, social problems, Montessori method, equal suffrage, Italian plays of Shakespeare, Vittoria Colonna work of the Superior Courts, the Aquatic Park Dramatic Readings, monologues, debates. Ten lectures on Roman history proved interesting and instructive. We have had discussions on all topics of general interest, such as the Abatement Bill, Municipal Ownership of Railways, the Hetch-Hetchy, California Productions, Playgrounds, Race-Track Amendment, a stereopticon on tuberculosis, lecture on contagious diseases, etc.

We have been interested and active in endeavoring to have our streets, particularly the small alleyways, kept in good condition. While our efforts have been principally in behalf of Italians, our members are always willing to perform any service in the interest of humanity.

Federated 1917

THE Club was organized to keep alive the friendship and association formed during the campaign of the Two-Platoon system, which had for its object better living conditions for the firemen, and also to provide lectures and entertainments for the social and intellectual benefit of its members. The membership is restricted to firemen's families. Those that are eligible are wives, mothers, sisters, daughters and widows of the members of the San Francisco Fire Department. The object of the Club is to promote sociability among its members and to promote the general welfare of the firemen.

The Club is affiliated with the City Federation of Women's Clubs for mutual benefit, and though our Club is in its infancy, it has progressed wonderfully.

We arranged an entertainment for the enlisted men and furnished an excellent program; we gave a musical recitation at the Relief Home for the Aged; we subscribed to the General Funston fund and to the Daily News Christmas-tree for poor children.

A unit of ten members and their alternates has served on the Red Cross committees.

The Club attended in a body and sent beautiful floral offerings to the funeral of our dead heroes, killed with their chief at one of our recent fires.

CALIFORNIA HOME FOR GIRLS

MRS. EDWARD DEXTER KNIGHT, Chairman

Organized 1913

Meets first Mondays

Federated 1917

A FEW years ago several representative Christian women of San Francisco who were interested in charitable and social service work became impressed with the serious need of an organization which would be prepared to render aid to girls and young women who, for any reason, had become destitute and were without friends in the city to whom they could appeal for help. The number of cases to whom assistance has been given, as shown in the tabulated report to follow, is mute but eloquent evidence of the need and worthiness of such a work.

In a quiet way these women began to develop plans for ways and means to reach and aid worthy cases of this kind, wisely limiting their efforts to girls and young women only, as there were other charitable organizations whose duty it was to care for indigent families, orphans and the aged. An office was opened and notices given through the press that any girl in dire distress would be given helpful advice and assistance upon application to the person in charge. It was first thought that many other women who had homes would be willing to help such a cause by providing temporary shelter and care occasionally for cases that applied, and assistance of this nature was solicited. This plan was soon found to be impracticable, however, and the need of a home devoted exclusively to the provision of temporary board and lodging for such cases was felt from the beginning. In 1913 this purpose began to take definite shape and a small house was secured. This formed the nucleus for the development of the greater work the Home was destined to do.

At about this time reorganization of the work along more extensive and more practical lines became necessary, and then the more effective effort of the California Home for Girls was begun, as most worthy enterprises of such nature are begun, by those who had little money but much faith. Many serious difficulties of a practical nature, having to do with the effort to finance and maintain the Home had to be met and overcome. The Home was and is in constant need of funds with which to carry on its work. But that it has been able to meet the ever-increasing demands made upon it has been because of the strength of purpose and ideals these women wrought for their vision of still greater service.

Two removals to more commodious quarters have been necessary since the opening of the Home in the little house. Financial support has not been forthcoming in proportion to the increased needs, but the organization has kept strong in the faith that when the great hearted people once really know of the splendid work the organization is doing and has in mind to do, there will be a half dozen giving aid toward the support of the Home where now there is one.

In January, 1917, as the result of repeated demands, it was decided to make an effort to meet another insistent need which, perhaps, may be considered by many to be even a greater service to humanity, the welfare of future citizens and the community at large, than the work of aiding stranded girls. There had been no place in San Francisco where a destitute young mother could board and have her baby with her. The Home has extended its work to meet this great need also. Mother and baby are taken into the Home, and in some cases a home is found for the baby for adoption, in others a boarding home has been found, and in others the father has been located and the parents reunited, and in some cases a position has been secured where a mother can work and have her baby with her.

So the California Home for Girls has become more than a free employment, a dispensary of advice, free board and lodging. It is a movement. Its objective is not a spectacular showing of large numbers of cases, though there have been many, but rather its purpose is the upbuilding of ill-nourished bodies and despairing minds. It aims by example to demonstrate the divineness of the commonplace; to prove that it is possible to inspire and exalt the common life; to build broader understanding and better citizenship among those girls and young mothers who might otherwise be ground down into the depths for want of a helping hand and heart at the moment of their greatest need.

It has been pointed out that the first and most insistent need of one who is stranded, homeless and friendless—from whatever cause—is a place where she can find prompt practical assistance. Just plain kindness plus the proof that exists only in immediate action; providing a temporary home with good food and lodging at cost; care through a convalescent period; assistance toward a position or a new start up the hill. So the purpose of such a work must also be a comfort to cheer. In some cases to reconstruct moral standards and rebuild self-respect. In all cases to instill new hope, courage, self-confidence—if possible—and to start them out with a fair and even chance again. The organization is proving that these things are possible in many hundreds of instances. It is safe to say that it will prove them possible in much larger measure as it gets the means to extend its work in proportion to the need. The California Home for Girls is strictly non-sectarian. On its board of directors are found Jews, Catholics and Protestants working in complete harmony. Among the cases which have received attention almost every faith in the world has been represented. All cases receive exactly the same consideration, treatment and care.

An outline is given below of how the work is conducted and scope of cases handled. For the working girl without friends who becomes stranded through loss of position; for the homeless girl who has broken down through overwork; for the destitute sick girl just coming out of the hospital; for indigent young mothers with new-born infants; for young married women or widows left destitute through desertion or death; for any girl in fact who is stranded and friendless from whatever reason, the work means just this: Within a few hours at most after application for assistance is made some means will have been provided for her care until she is able to care for herself again, dependent upon whatever may be the need in each case. The work is strictly a charity and social-service work, not the philanthropy of any one. It has no endowment or financial support except public subscription. It can help only to the extent that people give, which may be in the form of life membership, annual or associate membership, or by subscription without membership. Groceries or other provisions, usable clothing, house linen, etc., are also acceptable.

THE ORGANIZATION. A board of directors composed of representative women of San Francisco and California, an advisory committee of well-known clergymen, business and professional men, exercise general supervisory powers.

SUMMARY OF WORK DONE

In the four years closing January, 1918, over two thousand three hundred cases have received attention. The following are some of the forms of service which are included in this total, all of which represent cases of destitution only:

1. Those who have been inmates of our emergency home;
2. Positions secured for others who have not stayed at the home, for which service no charge is made either directly or indirectly;
3. Young mothers and infants cared for;
4. Arrangements made for adoption of babies in cases wherein the mothers are unfit or unable to care for the child;
5. Cases to whom transportation has been furnished to friends elsewhere;
6. Garments supplied to deserving women;
7. Destitute convalescents;
8. Cases treated by the physician to the Home;
9. Drink and drug cases;
10. Court cases, covering various needs arising in the adult Probation, Police and Superior Courts, etc.

All inquiries regarding the work and donations or applications for assistance should be addressed to Annette Blackburne, secretary.

FORUM CLUB OF CALIFORNIA

Federated 1916

THE nucleus for Forum Club was formed at the home of Mrs. F. L. Whitney, November 16, 1895, and November 27, 1895, found the organization full fledged and taking active shape—Club named, constitution and by-laws adopted; officers elected, with Mrs. Whitney president, with temporary accommodations at Hotel Wenban; listed and launched as a Club for Literary Culture and Social Intercourse; to be a downtown Club in the heart of the shopping district, easily available to the members for rest and refreshment, and for this purpose rooms were soon secured at Sutter Street and Grant Avenue, and May, 1896, found the Club occupying a permanent home, desirable from every standpoint, beautifully furnished and completely equipped through the generosity and enthusiasm of the members. Here ten happy, busy years were spent, where Forum Club worked, and studied, and frivoleed with equal zest and pleasure, an earnest, united club family.

But with the terrible disaster of April, 1906, when our flame-swept beloved city lay a pathetic and charred ruin of her bright beautiful self, Forum Club was a part of the ruin, and her life and record was for a time broken; but not for long, for the energy that conceived and created it was still alert and planning for its regeneration, and a few weeks found the Club reunited and holding regular meetings in Calvary Church. Through the untiring efforts of the officers and committees, home quarters were not long in materializing, and October, 1906, saw the Club cozily settled at 1636 Bush Street—the first club to re-establish itself, and still within the heart of the shopping district, being but a short distance from Van Ness Avenue, the new shopping boulevard of the fast-reviving city.

The Club remained here three years, until the rapid civic re-adjustment convinced the members that the time had come to move nearer to the center of the city's activities, and the last of 1909 the Club moved to 220 Post Street. Here Forum Club celebrated her 18th birthday and here remained four years, until the surging tide of the heavier business pressure made it advisable to seek a home a bit farther removed. The present location, 525 Sutter Street, was chosen, and May 14, 1914, Forum Club, newly and completely furnished and equipped (as in the first days of her existence), opened her doors to receive the homage of her members and friends in a happy re-union and reception of welcome to their beautiful new club home.

Here the good work for the club life and interests goes systematically on, still a club for "Literary Culture and Social Intercourse," but in these days of stress and strain Forum Club is more than that, and all else has been laid aside for the period of the war. The beautiful clubrooms have been transformed into a veritable Red Cross workshop, where all lines of work demanded for our country's needs are taken up, and all appeals for Government, welfare or relief, finds prompt and ready response. But whether it be the work or the play of the scheduled routine for business, for study or for relaxation, or whether it be the response to the appeals of the hour, all is done in fellowship with a unity of interest and patriotic zeal.

Forum Club has a service flag of forty-eight stars, has an active Red Cross auxiliary, a knitting section, a surgical dressing unit, has "gone over the top" in the drives for Red Cross, Liberty Loans, War Savings Stamps and Thrift Stamps, Smileage Books, has distributed books and magazine for army and navy libraries and use, has an active welfare committee, and is every ready, not only to do her "bit," but her utmost.

Forum Club is proud of having an advisory council composed of the past-presidents of the Club, the majority of whom are holding executive positions in the interest of present needs. The first ball for enlisted men given by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, in co-operation with the War Camp Community Service, was held at the Fairmont Hotel, September 14, 1917, under the auspices of Forum Club, and was a wonderful and gratifying success.

Forum Club belongs to the California State Federation, the San Francisco District Federation, and the San Francisco City Federation. The Club has a limited membership. Directors' meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesdays at 10:30 A. M.; regular club business meetings the second and fourth Wednesdays at 2 P. M., with program following at 3 P. M. Programs consist at present of Current Topics and Sidelights on the War, keeping the members in touch with overseas conditions of which our boys and girls are so vital a part and which holds our every thought and interest. The first Wednesday an informal luncheon is served, with informal talks or travelogues of the countries being brought so near to us or along the lines of civic welfare work, with patriotic songs and music, this being a day of relaxation, a letting down of the tension as it were.

The clubrooms are always open to the members. We have a library of up-to-date fiction, reference books of all kinds, the latest magazines, and the weekly and daily papers. A maid is always in attendance, making of Forum Club a home club as well as a war-working club, and still in accordance with the purpose for which it was organized.

SAN FRANCISCO BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S PEACE PARTY OF CALIFORNIA

Mrs. J. C. LEVY, President

Organized 1916

Meets first and third Wednesdays

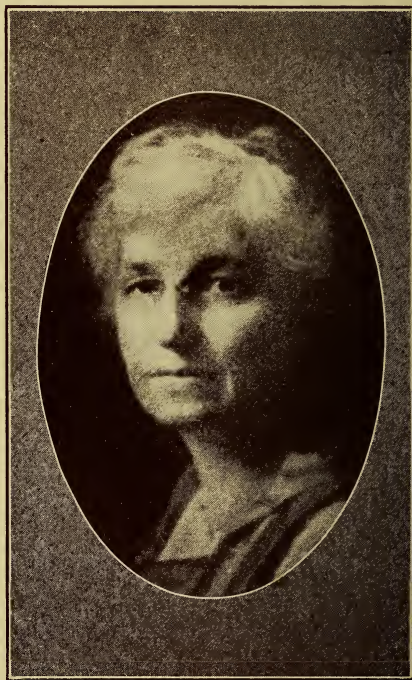

Federated 1917

THE preamble and platform of the Woman's Peace Party was adopted at Washington on the tenth of January, nineteen hundred and fifteen, at which time the women of the United States assembled in behalf of world peace, grateful for the security of our own country, but sorrowing for the misery of all involved in the present struggle among warring nations. The purpose of this organization is to enlist all American women in arousing the nations to respect the sacredness of human life and to abolish war. The national chairman of the organization is Miss Jane Addams of Chicago. The San Francisco district of the California branch of the Woman's Peace Party was organized to protest against war, to create a demand that law, order, reason and justice exercised through a world court be substituted for the war system of force and great armaments. Due to the entrance of the United States into the war, all the activities of the Woman's Peace Party have, to a great extent, been materially modified. We recognize, as our most important function, the preservation and increase of internationalism among the women of all nations. We have therefore focused our attention and efforts upon measures aimed toward the better organization of the world, in the interests of permanent peace, and in no wise are our activities to be construed as obstructive in respect to the conduct of the war, but we are sustaining our President and the administration in their efforts towards the liberation of all nations and the establishment of right and justice for all.

I can here do no better than to quote from the President's war message of April 2, 1917: "For democracy, for the right of those who submit to authority to have a voice in their own governments, for the rights and liberties of small nations for a universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself at last free."

Since our entrance into the war, the San Francisco district has answered the call to the service of the Red Cross, to the ameliorative and morally protective work for our soldiers and sailors, to food conservation and to the general effort to make our country a reservoir of help to a suffering world. The platform of the Woman's Peace Party shows a striking resemblance to the platform adopted by the International Congress of Women at the Hague, and President Wilson's masterly statement of the issues in his address to the Senate nearly two years later, January 22, 1917.

The formal and united utterance of our Woman's Peace Party has always been in entire sympathy with that portion of the President's reply to the Pope, August 27, 1917, in which he gives assurance to his belief in the equal right of all people, not only to "freedom and security and self government," but "to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world." Such agreement helps to prove that for which other proof is not lacking—that our organization is not only a loyal body devoted to the welfare of our country, but has a certain leadership in that rising demand to so adjust international relations as to make this war end war.

It gives me pleasure to state that Mrs. S. M. Richardson has done most effective work as chairman of Oriental Relations, and my thanks are also due to the able leadership of our state chairman, Mrs. C. E. Cumberson and to Mrs. Lehman Blum, our first vice-chairman, and other members of the organization, who have so loyally supported me during my term of office.

Our great task today is to create a strong foundation of intelligent public sentiment in favor of the principles for which we stand: Justice and peace for all humanity and the prevention of another world struggle for all time.

THE SAN FRANCISCO COLONY OF NEW ENGLAND WOMEN

MRS. M. A. BUCHAN, President

Organized 1905

Meets second Fridays

Federated 1916

THE platform of the National Society of New England Women which follows best describes the objects for which we were organized and for which we strive: "The purpose of the National Society of New England Women shall be to perpetuate the memory of our glorious ancestry, and to bind by the ties of a common interest the women born in New England, or of direct parentage therefrom; to give aid and encouragement to those New England women who are strangers and at a distance from their birthplace, who may be in need, and to instill into the hearts of the younger generation a love for the traditions of New England and a proper pride in its history." It was organized with about 70 members. The early meetings were held in the California Club house, 1750 Clay Street.

The first officers elected were: President, Mrs. John H. Swift; first vice-president, Mrs. F. Pfingst; second vice-president, Mrs. J. J. Scoville; corresponding secretary, Miss Jennie Partridge; recording secretary, Mrs. Wesley T. Gorham; treasurer, Mrs. H. C. Bunker.

Living up to its principles, material assistance was rendered by the Colony to New England women who suffered losses in the earthquake and fire of 1906. Fourteen members of the Colony were burned out in that catastrophe, and they, too, received the friendly aid and attention which was within the power of the organization to bestow. We have also co-operated with the New England association in raising funds for a home for aged New England people, and our hope is that this institution will be a reality and a blessing in the near future.

Financial assistance has been given regularly to the Travelers' Aid.

During the Exposition of 1915, we fell into line with other clubs in helping entertain, and ourselves entertained in the Massachusetts building, and since contributed toward the preservation of the Art Palace on the Exposition grounds.

Civics and home economics have had conspicuous places on our programs, and philanthropy especially appeals to our members, and at each Christmas-time books and toys are collected for children's homes. Lectures are given on all the leading topics of the day.

During the year last past we have been very active, the spirit of helpfulness having drawn us irresistibly into the different avenues of usefulness. We became members of the City Federation of Women's Clubs. A very successful unit of the American Branch of the Needlework Guild was organized in the early part of the year, with Mrs. Sara M. Bunker as director, and many new garments assisted those in need, of all ages and conditions.

Since the United States joined the cause of the Allies, the Colony of New England Women, true to the traditions of its forbears, who came to these shores for liberty's sake, has been doing what it saw to do, and has assisted in social and literary entertainments for soldiers, contributed to the War Library Fund, purchased a Liberty Bond, affiliated with the County Council of National and State Defense, and has organized in our Colony a War Savings unit, and hopes for a larger membership in this new department than we now have.

We trust that we shall be able to continue, as we have in the past, to work with a common purpose as opportunity presents itself for the uplift of humankind.

Meets Quarterly on Tuesday

Federated 1918

THE Siena Club, composed of the Catholic students attending San Francisco State Normal School, Golden Gate Kindergarten, and Lux School, was organized with the Most Rev. E. J. Hanna, D. D., as chaplain. In 1915 it was found necessary to form the Alumnae section. This is composed of the graduates of the above-mentioned schools. The Alumnae meets quarterly in the Siena Club-rooms, Young Men's Institute Building, 50 Oak Street. It also serves tea to the Siena members and members of the Alumnae on Tuesday afternoons while Red Cross work is carried on. An indoor picnic is given complimentary to the incoming members in the spring term and a card party in the fall term. The Siena Alumnae was the hostess at the enlisted men's dance at the St. Francis Hotel under the auspices of the Federation on May 3, 1918.

SAN FRANCISCO AUXILIARY OF THE LEAGUE OF AMERICAN PEN WOMEN

Mrs. Nellie Blessing Eyster, Honorary State Representative
Josephine Martin, State Representative

Organized 1917

Meets four times a year

Federated 1917

THE League of American Pen Women is a national organization of women writers, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. The object of the League is to band together women journalists, authors and illustrators for mutual benefit. Every state has a representative. California is among the states having two representatives, one in southern California, Mrs. Haines W. Reed, and one in northern California, Josephine Martin, club editor of the San Francisco Examiner, representative.

The work of the League of the American Pen Women during these war times has been particularly far-reaching and vital. The advantages accruing to women of letters by a union of their interests, as represented in the League of American Pen Women, have been manifold. "Things visioned" have been rendered of value to the Government, for the Pen Women have been zealous in their patriotic manifestations. The San Francisco auxiliary of the League contributed the necessary sum in the purchase of the City Federation Liberty Bond, making up the deficit at the meeting held at the Palace Hotel, when the first Liberty Bonds were sold. During the Christmas season the local branch of the League took an active part in the distribution of Christmas bags for the children of the men in uniform at the Presidio, Fort Mason, Fort Miley and other forts near San Francisco. The League has given a number of entertainments for the men in uniform, and had entire charge of the evening program of the City Federation at the Palace Hotel. Constant publicity to all patriotic endeavors by the local women's organizations have been given through the channel of the San Francisco Auxiliary.

California writers enrolled on the roster of the League of American Pen Women include many represented in the different literary fields who have achieved distinction for their work. Mrs. Margaret Pearson is national president of the League of American Pen Women. On her executive staff are such well-known women writers as Mrs. Theodore Tiller, first vice-president; Mrs. Helen Nelson Doocy, second vice-president; Miss Dora Simpkins, recording secretary; Mrs. Gertrude Buckingham Thomas, corresponding secretary; Miss Elizabeth A. Hyde, assistant corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary T. Clair Blackburn, treasurer; Mrs. Philander P. Claxton, auditor; Mrs. Emma M. V. Triepel, librarian; Mrs. Virginia King Frye, historian.

Quoting from the national president, the patriotic spirit of the League is well expressed as follows: "The paramount and absorbing effort must relate to the world war in which our country is now engaged. Immediate action will be most effective. The Pen Women of America should make themselves felt patriotically. The opportunity for doing reflex work is unequalled."

The personnel of the Pen Women's League includes women who have written for publication in the field of history, biography, travel, education, fiction, short-story, poetry, drama, music, art, illustrations, magazines, newspaper work, political economy, social economy. The local branch of this literary organization is identified with the Social Entertainment Committee for the recreation of soldiers and sailors under the War Department Commission. Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., "First lady of our city," is chairman of this committee. Josephine Martin, California representative of the League of American Pen Women, is secretary. Mrs. Nellie Blessing Eyster is honorary president of the San Francisco auxiliary and honorary representative of California. Mrs. Eyster is one of the best-known writ-

PAPYRUS CLUB

MRS. WADE J. WILLIAMS, President

Organized 1902

Meets first and Third Wednesdays

Federated 1916

THE Papyrus Club has passed the sixteenth year of its existence and is now in its best and highest sense of its Club functions. The great purpose of the Club is social, musical, dramatic and literary development. Many notable men and women have brought their wonderful gifts, with great generosity, and given of their best as guests of the Club. The Papyrus Club is fast becoming a power in the aid of war needs in our own land as well as in the stricken lands. Just so long as there exists one call unanswered, the Papyrus Club will stand at the open door to give to the limit of her strength. The St. Francis Hotel, the new home of Papyrus, presents the last word in equipment and surroundings.

Among the past presidents are Mrs. Kathleen Byrne, Mrs. Florence Richmond and Mrs. Oscar Crosscup, who give unfailingly united action for the Club's advancement. Obviously there should be some excellent reason for the banding together of thoughtful women; we have found that reason to be the unselfish devotion of time, strength, money and energy to the great call of an advancing civilization, that true function of woman as conservator and preserver of the peace of the world.

SAN FRANCISCO MUSICAL CLUB

MISS A. M. WELLENDOFF, President

Organized 1890

Joined City Federation of Women's Clubs 1916

Meets first and third Thursdays

THE origin of the San Francisco Musical Club dates back to the nineties, when a few young women pupils of a well-known piano teacher formed themselves into a club, to meet once a month for the purpose of gaining confidence and poise in playing for each other, calling themselves the "Abby Cheney Amateurs." In a short time requests came for enlarged membership, admitting vocalists and violinists as well as pianists, changing the name to that of Chaminade Club, with Miss Maud Smith as President. In time, with the natural growth of the Club and broader purposes, its present name was adopted and meetings were held in the Century Club Auditorium. The Club has increased in membership steadily, enrolling at the present time about five hundred active and associate members. Its programs have covered a still wider scope in musical achievement, being purposeful and democratic, ever reaching out towards those musical ideals which stand for the best, keeping in mind the larger vision of a community helpfulness in its musical life.

Owing to war conditions these past two years, the Club has extended its activities beyond the bi-monthly programs. It has been proven beyond a doubt that music is as necessary in war time, if not more so, than in ordinary times, and the musicians have been needed and have worked earnestly and unflinching in response to the needs.

Our Army and Navy Committee has given over one hundred concerts this past year at the various camps. The Red Cross and Liberty Bonds committees have done excellent work in the various drives and the work required of them. The Red Cross Concert Benefits have been a great success financially and musically. The San Francisco Musical Club has entered into all these activities with earnestness and enthusiasm to serve nationally as well as musically, thereby becoming a vital organization in the community.

MILLS CLUB

MRS. JOHN H. PERINE, President

Organized 1889

Joined City Federation of Women's Clubs in 1916

Meets third Tuesdays

THE Mills Club of San Francisco was organized by Mrs. Wm. Reding as a social and literary club, the express purpose of which was to bring past students of Mills College together that they might continue the friendships formed while at Mills and to keep closer in touch with one another. During the twenty-nine years of its existence it has had sixteen presidents. The growth of the Club is necessarily slow, as only students or former students are eligible to membership, but the growth is steady. In 1915 the constitution was revised in order to

MRS. JOHN H. PERINE
PRESIDENT OF MILLS CLUB

MRS. WILBUR F. WILLIAMS
PRESIDENT OF NEW ERA LEAGUE

allow the Club to expand and increase the scope of its activities. The object of the Club now is, to promote friendship and good fellowship among its members and to secure a wider unity of effort in supporting Mills College in its high aims and purposes and in furthering its best interests.

During the Panama-Pacific Exposition the Club assisted the Alumnae Association in maintaining Mills headquarters at the Inside Inn, within the gates of the Exposition grounds. Many men and women of prominence in the educational world were entertained at these headquarters.

In 1912 the Club federated with the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and in 1915 with the California State Federation of Women's Clubs and the San Francisco District. In 1916, when the City Federation of Women's Clubs was organized, the Mills Club was one of the organizers and charter members of the Federation. During the year that the United States has been at war the Mills Club has taken part in nearly every phase of the war work. The Club has a Red Cross unit and a knitting auxiliary; has entertained the service men at Fort Winfield Scott under the Social Entertainment Committee of the War Camp Community Service, of which Mrs. James Rolph, Jr., is chairman, fifty students of Mills College giving a musical and dancing program on that occasion. The Club, together with Laurel Hall Club, gave a dance for enlisted men at the St. Francis Hotel, under the auspices of the City Federation, of which Mrs. D. J. MacMaster is chairman. The Club has furnished the reception room of Warren Olney Hall at Mills College, and has presented the college with Liberty Bonds to be applied to the permanent endowment fund of the college. Mills Club women sold bonds during the Third Liberty Loan drive, maintaining a stand at the Palace Hotel, and also sold War Savings and Thrift Stamps. The Club is doing its share in the War Victory Commission, organized by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to furnish furlough and convalescent homes for "our boys" in France.

Like all organizations, the work and programs during the past year have centered around the war, and patriotic programs and addresses have been given by men who have returned from the war zone. The work for the coming year promises to be of the same nature, and war work will be the aim of the Club.

NEW ERA LEAGUE

MRS. WILBUR F. WILLIAMS, President

Organized 1911

Meets every Tuesday

Federated 1918

THE New Era League was organized after the campaign which was successful in bringing woman suffrage to the State of California—an outgrowth of the Women's Franchise League. The object of the re-organization was to promote the general welfare of the commonwealth, to secure the greatest efficiency in public office, to educate the members to a better understanding of the responsibility of citizenship, to initiate constructive legislation, and to co-operate in such measures. The first three consecutive years were under the presidency of Lillian Harris Coffin. Among the most important measures supported were municipal ownership of the Geary Street Railroad and the Hetch-Hetchy project. Following Mrs. Coffin, Mrs. George B. Sperry occupied the chair. During Mrs. Sperry's term music for the masses was established. Mrs. Sperry was chairman of the welfare department and a member of the woman's board of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. In 1916, Mrs. Lillian Harris Coffin was re-elected to the presidency. During this period the usual civic and social activities were carried on. All questions of importance and educational benefit were presented to the members by able speakers. Mrs. W. B. Hamilton succeeded to the presidency in 1917. Our nation was at war, but much good was done by directing all forces to the service of the State and National Government. The members of the League worked as individuals and in groups in the Red Cross drives, Belgian Relief and Liberty Loans. Mrs. Wilbur F. Williams succeeded Mrs. Hamilton as president. During Mrs. Williams' term of office the many perplexing problems that have confronted the nation and the burdens for organizations that followed have been handled in a most satisfactory way with the assistance of the chairmen of the following departments: Welfare, Mrs. Coleman Cox; Legislation, Mrs. J. M. Hamill; Membership, Mrs. Katherine Bennett; Publicity, Mrs. Mary T. Gammage; Printing, Mrs. Arthur W. Perry.

The League is an auxiliary of the Red Cross of the navy branch of the service; Mrs. Coleman Cox, chairman. Many knitted garments have been supplied through this auxiliary, and the sponsoring of the flagship U. S. S. Brooklyn was undertaken to supply reading matter for 800 men aboard. Surgical dressing material has been made into the necessary articles at the Navy League headquarters. A phonograph was secured by Mrs. Wilbur Williams, president, for amusement of the boys on a submarine chaser going out to sea. All appeals have been met with generous response by the League. A Liberty Bond was purchased. A room was furnished at the expense of the League at the Outside Inn near the gates of the Presidio, for the mothers of sick soldiers who are at Letterman General Hospital.

The New Era League is unique in having a highway department, initiated and continued for the past five years under the chairmanship of Miss Margaret McGovern. Great assistance was rendered the State Highway Commission in the bond issues for highway improvement in the various counties where Miss McGovern lectured. The National Highways and Federal Aid organizations have also been given support and the campaign of education greatly stimulated. The Pacific Coast Defense League advocates of a military highway system have recognized the importance of the support of the League. United States Congressman John C. Raker has officially recognized and commended the work done by the Highway Department of the New Era League of California. During Mrs. Williams' term of office the League federated with the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the District Federation.

COUNCIL OF SAN FRANCISCO SCHOOL WOMEN

MISS ANNE DUFFY, President

Organized 1917

Meets first Thursdays

Federated 1917

THE Council of San Francisco School Women is an organization of one hundred and forty women principals, vice-principals, and high-school teachers of the San Francisco School Department. It was formed in April, 1917, by the members of Council Two of the old Association of Teachers' Councils, upon the dissolution of that association in the interests of a more effective organization, the San Francisco Teachers' Association. The object of the Council is to study problems in education and to work as a body to promote the best interests of the teaching profession. It meets on the first Thursday of each calendar month (June, July and August excepted) at 4 P. M., in the Blue Room of the Hotel St. Francis.

After the regular order of business is disposed of, a speaker of note addresses the club on topics of current interest. Tea is served, and the members enjoy meeting one another socially.

SPRING VALLEY MOTHER'S CLUB

MRS. SAMUEL BERMINGHAM, President

Organized 1914

Meets second and fourth Wednesdays

Federated 1917

THE Spring Valley Mothers' Club is deeply interested in the welfare of the children in the school. Our welfare work is in charge of Mrs. Howard, and has done wonderful work the past year for a small club. The club has helped one needy family for more than three years, with the rent for one year and supplying it with one quart of milk a day for six months, and helping in other ways. We have found positions for boys and girls who needed work, and have furnished eye-glasses for a child, besides buying and mending shoes for the children, thus enabling them to attend school. The club gives an average of $10 a month to the welfare work.

The Social Committee, Mrs. J. K. Revalk, chairman, attends to the social duties of the club, and has arranged for four dances during the year. Had five social meetings, with prominent speakers to address the members.

Playground Committee, Mrs. Murray, chairman: The Spring Valley Playground, situated in Broadway, between Larkin and Polk streets, was dedicated May 23, 1917. The fact that there is a playground in this district is due to the strenuous work of the Club members. It is very small, but the children now have a supervised place to play.

Red Cross work: The Club donated $20 to the Red Cross. Members of the Club canvassed the district for memberships and secured over 600 members for the Red Cross. We gave a benefit at the New Polk Theater, June 4th, turning over to the Red Cross fund $81.30.

GEORGE H. THOMAS CIRCLE No. 32 LADIES OF THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC

MRS. MARION E. KYLE, President

Organized 1903

Meets first and third Tuesdays

Federated 1918

THE organization of the Ladies of the G. A. R. on December 15, 1881, at Trenton, N. J., comprised in its membership the mothers, wives, daughters, sisters, granddaughters, and bloodkin nieces of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the Civil War. Army nurses, members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and Sons of Veterans are admitted as honorary members, thus making the family circle complete. This organization will be perpetuated by lineal descendants. It is formed upon lines similar to those of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and will hold in the future as high and honorable a place as the D. A. R. holds today and is destined to hold in the future. Historically considered, the organization is most important and valuable as an order of records. It is a distinct and independent organization, is having a very rapid growth in membership, and has a department in nearly every state in the Union. It expends large sums of money every year for the relief of veterans and their wives, widows, and orphans, and has established and maintains homes for them in several states. Who shall say that the organization has labored in vain?

George H. Thomas Circle No. 32, Ladies of the G. A. R., was organized at the time of the National Encampment of the G. A. R. in San Francisco, August, 1903; its first meetings were held in Red Men's Hall on Post Street, later in Steinway Hall on Sutter Street, remaining there until the great fire of 1906, when all its paraphernalia and practically all records of the Circle were destroyed. Then for ten years King Solomon's Temple was its home; upon April 1, 1917, it moved to the Civic Auditorium, where rooms were prepared for the G. A. R. by the city. The Department of the Ladies of the G. A. R. owns land at Sawtelle, about half a mile from the Soldiers' Home, where eight comfortable cottages have been built, and where each veteran and his wife may pass their remaining years together. Each apartment has two large rooms, a closet, a pantry, and front and back porches, gas, water, and modern plumbing. Shortly after its organization, George H. Thomas Circle, through the liberality of one of its charter members, Mrs. Abbie Krebs Wilkins, built a four-room cottage, turning it over to the Department free of debt. Since that time necessary expenses, in the nature of repairs and improvements, have been met by the proceeds of bazaars, parties, and other entertainments, given by the Circle from time to time.

On January 4, 1918, George H. Thomas Circle No. 32, with the other two city circles, formed an Auxiliary to the Red Cross, called the "Ladies of the G. A. R. Auxiliary." Meetings are held Tuesday and Friday of each week at the Civic Auditorium, where a very comfortable and pleasant room has been fitted up. About thirty ladies are in attendance, sewing and knitting for the soldiers and sailors. The members are very enthusiastic about the work, and the inspectors from the Red Cross have praised the work very highly. All patriotic days are celebrated by the Circle in a fitting manner, and Liberty Bonds have been purchased.

Mrs. EMMA HORNER, President

Organized 1907

Meets second and fourth Tuesdays

Federated 1918

GENERAL GEORGE G. MEADE CORPS No. 61 was organized for the purpose of assisting and caring for the Union soldiers and their dependent ones. We send a yearly donation to Our Woman's Relief Home at Evergreen, near San Jose. We assist at the funeral of a deceased comrade by giving the Flag Service. The Corps does a great deal of patriotic work, visits schools on Washington's Birthday, Lincoln's Birthday and Flag Day, and presents flags to Sunday schools where needed. In the past year we have twice entertained our boys in brown and our boys in blue by giving them a dance and luncheon. On Decoration Day we entertained our Post with a luncheon, served by the ladies of the Corps. Our meetings are held in Washington Hall, at the Exposition Auditorium. Any loyal woman over sixteen years of age is eligible to membership in the Corps.

IDEAL SCHOOL WOMEN'S CLUB

Miss AUGUSTA J. JOHNSON, President

Organized 1914

Meets four times a year

Federated 1916

THE Ideal Club is an association of school women formed to promote educational and social interests of its members. The meetings are held four times a year, on the week preceding each school vacation. The activities of the Club have been along educational and legislative lines, the object being to keep informed on current topics, especially those relating to the life and progress of the teacher, with a view to broadening her outlook in that direction.

The first meeting for the year 1917 was held March 17, at the Clift Hotel. Interesting reports from the committees delegated to the Child Welfare and Civic Section of the Federation were given, and after a discussion of the Teachers' Pension Law the Club enjoyed a delicious luncheon. The next two meetings were held in June and September, respectively, on the Sun Porch of the Hotel Whitcomb. At each meeting reports of committees brought out interesting discussions on the different topics relating to progress along lines already mentioned, as well as the new work of assisting in patriotic undertakings. The last meeting, held at the Fairmont Hotel, December 1, consisted of a business meeting, at which officers were elected for the ensuing year. Miss A. Johnson was elected president. Mrs. Maland, secretary. After a luncheon the Club adjourned till the following year.

SOCIAL WORKERS' ALLIANCE

MRS. E. L. BALDWIN, President

THE Social Workers' Alliance of San Francisco is an organization of employed and volunteer workers connected with social agencies in the city. It is part of the California Conference of Social Agencies, formerly the Conference of Charities and Corrections. The Alliance holds monthly meetings and an occasional luncheon or extra meeting to honor visiting experts and to gain from them that which will add to the professional advancement of our workers or aid in the general plans for social service. The establishment of the San Francisco Social Service Exchange in the Hewes Building, 995 Market Street, is the result of much investigation and effort on the part of a committee of the Alliance, and typifies the spirit of the organization, which is co-operation and co-ordination of all agencies dealing directly with the problems of poverty, illness, and misfortune.

An Announcement

YOU women of the west who elect to take your outing, unhampered by any attempt to make conventional clothing render service for which it is not suitable, are invited to inspect our latest line of Ellery-Made garments. We are designers as well as manufacturers and you will find our garments of distinctive, stylish patterns, made by expert operators and of fabrics best adapted to the various requirements. They are not made to compete with style or price but to represent at once the most practical, the most durable, and for quality considered, the fairest priced garments on the market. Our new catalogue is ready for your inspection.

HOTEL LEIGHTON LOS ANGELES

To be practically in the heart of the city, yet with surroundings as alluring as those of a suburban hotel, is the striking feature of Hotel Leighton. It is located upon high ground fronting south in the Westlake residence section, directly opposite Westlake Park, with its beautiful lake and gardens.

Here is delightful relief from the noise and confusion of the business section, yet ten minutes ride on either of four direct car lines takes one into the shopping center and among the amusement places.

Hotel Leighton is an American and European plan family and tourist hotel of the highest class. Each room has direct outside exposure, hot and cold water, telephone and steam heat. Billiard room, barber shop, circulating library and elevator service in the building.

Large grounds with shade trees, swing seats, children's playground, clock golf, and two fine tennis courts. Automobile entrance at main floor level. Parking space on the hotel grounds. Leighton Garage, day and night service, immediately across the street.

European plan rates from $1.50 per day and up. American plan $3.50 per day and up.

The Historic Palace Hotel

No other hotel in all the world is so homey, so like a private club, where the picked men and women of the world foregather every day and every evening. Sooner or later you will find every personage of first importance within its portals.

S. HASTEN

Manufacturer, Designer and Maker

Furs made to order. Remodeling a specialty. Remodeling done by an expert of twenty years experience. Sealskin coats redyed, remodeled and relined very reasonably. My low prices keep all local furriers guessing as to how it is done.
